Children's Santaland Opened Wednesday

At 10:00 A.M. Wednesday, December 6, the Community House doors swung open on Tidewater's newest, most unusual Santaland, where everything imaginable is provided for children's holiday happiness and supervised care.

Through the careful planning and ardent workmanship of Leo Hooty and Mrs. Estelle Dolkins, General Chairwoman of the Neighborhood of Girl Scouts, together with their various committees, Santaland presents a bright Christmas spectacle to capture the hearts and imaginations of youngsters and grown-ups alike.

Mrs. Sam Krantz is the "Neighborhood's" chairwoman in charge of Special Activities for Santaland and Mrs. Lois Turnbull will supervise the nursery.

Old Santa is on hand, of course, to greet the youngsters, pose for pictures with them and listen attentively to their gift lists. And while parents go shopping in quest of said gifts, they may leave the children under the watchful eyes of trained supervisors and nurses. Only a nominal registration fee will be asked for the added convenience of "baby sitting."

Santaland boasts fun galore for the kiddies with its daily movies (2:30 P.M.), available TV, a snack bar and free candies and toys.

It's well worth a trip to 18th and Arctic any day between 10:00 A.M. and 8:00 P.M. from now until noon Christmas Eve to see this wondrous world of traditional Christmas gaiety.

Santaland is made possible through the combined sponsorship of the City of Virginia Beach, The Chamber of Commerce and the Retail Merchants Association.

Junior Women's Club Provides Clothing for 187 Families In Year

Today the Clothing Bank of Princess Anne County provided a warmer Christmas for two more children. This makes more than one-hundred and eighty-seven families clothed by the Bank this year.

The Welfare Bank is operated and supported by the Junior Women's Club of Princess Anne County. These are a group of attractive, community-minded young women who volunteer their efforts unstintingly provided clothing, household equipment, and in extreme cases, fuel to those persons in real need.

Clothing Drives are Waged Periodically, drives are waged for clothing, which is taken to the Community House, and sorted for easy accessibility. Each Wednesday and Saturday morning, two of the Junior Women report to the Clothing Bank, and persons whose eligibility has been ascertained by the Director of Welfare of Princess Anne County, are provided with work shoes, coats, and warm clothing.

A Typical Case Here is a typical case. A widowed grandmother has been left with five small children, deserted by their Mother. With allied co-operation between the welfare department and the Junior Women's Club, these children are completely clothed from this bank.

On occasions when there are no shoes or clothing of the right size, the small cash reserve in the Welfare Fund is used to purchase new clothing.

Profits From Follies Used The Clothing Fund represents profits from the fruitful labour of these industrious women, the most familiar of which is their "Follies of 1957", again to be presented this season on February 1-2 at the Princess Anne High School Auditorium.

This Clothing Bank located in the Community House at 19th St. and Arctic Avenue, is the only one in Princess Anne County. The Junior Women deserve a goodly measure of thanks for at least one-hundred and eighty-seven warmer families this winter.

Clothing for Mary --- Shoes for Johnny

Mrs. William F. Ferrell, President, and Mrs. Paul B. Maestas, chairman of Clothing Bank of the Junior Women's Club of Princess Anne County are shown fitting two young children from their clothing bank. (see story)

Bridge-Tunnel Idea Progressing

The engineering report released last week that revealed a considerable advantage, traffic-wise, in a bridge-tunnel link over Chesapeake Bay connecting the Eastern Shore to Princess Anne County as contrasted with an Eastern Shore-Lower Peninsula link was not surprising. In fact, most observers expected such a result.

The report stated that the Eastern Shore-Princess Anne County link would attract approximately 20 per cent more vehicular traffic than the East-West crossing. This would seem a conservative figure, according to some of those individuals very close to the project.

One of those who expressed surprise at the 20 per cent estimate was Richard S. Holland, the Princess Anne member of the Chesapeake Bay Ferry Commission, who also serves as vice-chairman of the commission. Holland stated that he thought the ratio would be more like four to one for a direct route by way of the Eastern Shore to Princess Anne County.

The report serves to increase the hopes that such a bridge-tunnel may be built in the near future. It also serves to point up the desirability and the soundness of connecting the Eastern Shore with Princess Anne County.

Motorists Should Take Heed

We are just about into the Christmas holiday period and the rush of shoppers on our streets. With this season of the year our traffic mishaps tend to increase. More people are moving about and more automobiles are on the highways and on our city streets.

Virginia Beach's Police Chief warns this week that night driving and night accidents are most prevalent in this season of the year. He warns us to take special heed of traffic regulations and to be especially careful through the Yuletide Season just ahead.

It would behoove all of us to slow down now so that we will not be the victim of an accident during the Holidays. We should be alert at all times and watch for the other fellow. It takes two to make an accident so don't be a part of such a partnership.

Busses Are Operating Again

Last Saturday morning bus service for Virginia Beach and between Virginia Beach and Norfolk was resumed after an absence of some three weeks caused the strike of drivers of the Carolina Coach Company.

The service now in operation here is operating on a temporary permit issued by the State Corporation Commission and the quick resumption of service is a direct result of the work done by city officials in obtaining some form of transportation service for the city.

The City Manager and members of the City Council were active in arranging the bus service with a Portsmouth Bus Company. It was welcomed news when the announcement was made that arrangements had been made for the service.

City officials are to be congratulated in their efforts to relieve this transportation problem and are to be commended as a result of those efforts.

FORT STORY TELLINGS Soldier Medal Winners

FORT STORY, Va. — Two young soldiers who have served together since they entered the U. S. Army nearly two years ago, stood together on the parade field of tiny Cape Henry post this afternoon to receive together the nation's highest non-combatant award, The Soldier's Medal.

Specialists Third Class Willis D. Bassett, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bassett of Dixon, Missouri, and Robert L. Blasko, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Blasko of Webster Grove, Missouri, were honored for a daring rescue they performed in a storm-lashed surf on May 8, 1956.

The men, assigned to the 461st Amphibious Truck Company — nicknamed "The Barracudas" — at Fort Story, were on the Cape Henry Beach about 4:30 a.m. on May 8 when two LVT's (Landing Vehicle Tracked) swamped in the heavy surf and ten men were trapped atop the sunken vehicles.

Although not assigned as a driver of the DUKW (the Army's amphibious 2½ ton truck), Blasko climbed aboard as his friend Bassett attempted to enter the water to attempt the rescue. Another DUKW which attempted to enter the surf was unable to do so.

In spite of waves described by witnesses as "the highest ever seen in this area," they reached the LVT swamped fartherest from shore. The waves slammed the DUKW against the sunken vehicle, puncturing the "swimming truck's" hull. The two men continued their rescue efforts, however, and were able to drag Private Willie Stewart, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Stewart of Freer, Texas, to safety.

Robert L. Blasko, left, and Willis D. Bassett are shown receiving the Soldier's Medal recently from Colonel Robert A. Cliffe, chief of staff at Fort Story. The award is the highest non-combatant medal offered by the Army. The soldiers were recognized for their rescue efforts last summer when two LVT's were swamped in heavy seas.

The six men on the LVT swamped nearest to shore were able to swim to safety with the assistance of their life belts. Three men on the far vehicle were washed away and drowned before assistance could reach them.

For their actions "above and beyond the call of duty," Bassett and Blasko were presented with the Soldier's Medal in a special garrison retreat parade this afternoon.

Colonel Robert A. Cliffe, chief of staff, presented the decorations. He was acting as personal representative of Major General Rush B. Lincoln, Jr., commanding general of the Transportation Training Command, of which Fort Story is a part.

(Note: Bassett and Blasko are referred to in this story as Specialists Third Class and PFC's in the time of the rescue but have since been promoted.)

Beach-County Garden Clubs Judge Christmas Decorations

Once again, downtown Virginia Beach is transformed into a gay Christmas - land with shop windows and other business houses in the Retail Merchants Association has called upon the Council of Garden Clubs of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County to judge the most outstanding decorations. Last year local business people went all out to create spectacular and unusual displays, attracting widespread interest to the contest. This season an even greater number of participants is expected.

Mrs. Gilmore Lee Tibbott, President of the Council of Garden Clubs and co-ordinator for the Christmas program, announced Friday that the Business area to be judged will extend from Rudee Inlet to Fort Story and from Birdneck Point to Linier.

To insure balanced competition, the various places of business will be broken down into the 15 following categories: Restaurants, Cleaners and Laundries, Service Stations, Men's and Women's Children's and Miscellaneous Apparel, Gift and Jewelry Shops, Grocers and Markets, Hardware - Plumbing and Paint Stores, TV and Appliances, Banks, Specialty Shops, and Amusements-Newspapers and Utilities.

The committee of judges will consist of 3 representatives from each of 12 local garden clubs, with Mrs. Cecil Mears acting as chairwoman. Though the committee will endeavor to see every window in the business area, it will be greatly appreciated if each person wishing to have his or her display judged, will phone Mrs. Mears at Virginia Beach 1311.

Final judging will take place Friday and Saturday, December 14th and 15th, at which time certificates of honor will be given for the finest display in each class. To the most outstanding window decor in all combined categories goes the Retail Merchant's award winning plaque.

The committee for defining categories will be headed by Mrs. E. A. Hoffmeister, while Mrs. C. F. Greene, Mrs. J. F. Fabbro and Mrs. Louis Guy will be in charge of awards. Publicity by Kitty Gordon.

Later in the month the Council of Garden Clubs will also judge the outdoor Christmas decorations throughout the residential districts of Virginia Beach. Presidents who would like to compete in this class are requested to contact Mrs. Clinton Woodhouse at Virginia Beach 3167.

A short business meeting was held first, with reports of the activities of the various troops for the past month. Refreshments were served.

The craft display included such items as handpainted drinking glasses, painted pine cone candle holders, Christmas candles, a Rice Krispie Candy Sleigh, shell crafts and felt crafts and a mobile made from a branch covered with artificial snow and painted with used flashlight bulbs hanging from it. All the exhibits showed the ingenuity and creativeness of the girls and their leaders.

A letter of appreciation was received by Mrs. P. Dolgins, neighborhood Chairman of Girl Scouts, from "The Association for Retarded Children." It reads as follows:

Dear Mrs. Dolgins:
This is to express our thanks for the help your scouts have given us in preparing handicraft for our retarded children.

We hope your girls will continue to be interested in this aspect of community service. We always have some kind of materials to be prepared.
Again our thanks.

Scott Memorial "Methodist Men" Hear Cavalier Quartet "Spirituals"

The November meeting of the "Methodist Men" of Scott Memorial, held at the Church social hall November 26th featured the Cavalier Quartet of Norfolk, Va. presenting a very interesting program of "spirituals" and other wholesome music. The event was very greatly enjoyed by the group of approximately 150 people, made up of members of Methodist Men and other Church members and their families. Taking the form of a barbecue supper, served by the wives of members of the men's club, it was another of the outstanding events in the life of the Scott Memorial Church, sponsored by Methodist Men, under the leadership of President Aris Paine and his staff of officers.

The Women's Society of Christ and the World, including most of the women of Scott Memorial, will hold their annual Christmas party in connection with the regular December meeting on Tuesday, December 11, at 8:00 P.M. All members of the group are invited to be present for one of the outstanding meetings of the year.

The "Children's Home Month" emphasis is being brought to the fore in the Scott Memorial Church, as in other Methodist Churches throughout the Virginia Conference. During this month, and especially on "Children's Home Sunday" December 10th, the offering for the maintenance of the Home and the building of new cottages and dining hall unit, will be received.

Fighter Squadron 61 Survival Demonstration

Fighter Squadron Sixty-One, commanded by Capt. J. A. Livingston, USN and based at the Oceana Naval Air Station, will test their survival equipment and conduct a survival demonstration at Virginia Beach Friday, December 7th 9:30 P.M. The general public is invited to attend.

The exercise will be held in the surf to the rear of the Coast Guard station on 24th and Atlantic Avenues at Virginia Beach and the complete equipment survival equipment carried by a jet pilot will be demonstrated.

Pilots of Sixty-One will be picked up by a helicopter from the Oceana Master Jet Base and also will be given a simulated amphibious vehicle pick-up when the Coast Guard Station's DUKW assists in the demonstration by picking the fliers from the surf.

Life is fleeting in extremely cold water as the average time until life departs is about four minutes without an exposure suit. Chance of survival for a pilot, down in extremely cold water, is increased by a large margin if he is wearing the rubber suit, affectionately nicknamed "Pogy suit" by naval aviators, and members of the Demon Jet Squadron will take this opportunity to test their suits while demonstrating and training in the operation of other survival equipment.

18th Century Ceremonies Set for Williamsburg's Yuletide Pageantry

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. - "Now Christmas comes, 'tis fit that we should feast and sing and merry be, keep open house, let fiddlers play, a fig for cold, sing care away."

So an 18th-century Virginia Almanack announced the Christmas season, and here in the restored colonial capital Yuletide is celebrated each year with a fortnight of festivities, featuring the music, pageantry and feasts typical of two hundred years ago.

This year's Christmas schedule opens Sunday, December 16, with a concert of traditional folk music by the Williamsburg Quintet at the Lodge. The following evening a candlelight concert of 18th-century chamber music will be given in the ballroom of the Governor's Palace. Other Palace concerts will be given December 21 and 26.

Wednesday, December 19, the Williamsburg school choral groups will form a candlelight procession and carol through the restored area, signaling the traditional "white lighting" of the town. As the choralists pass the colonial houses, public buildings and shops, candles will be lit in every window to remain through the holiday season. That evening at the Reception Center, the Hampton Institute Choir will give a concert featuring Christmas folk music of many lands.

Eighteenth-century games will be played at Chowan's Tavern Thursday evening, December 20, and the tavern hosts will spin ancient yarns and ghost stories for the guests' amusement. An amusing talk on Christmas customs of long ago will also be given at the Reception Center that evening.

The search for the Yule Log will be held December 21 and the traditional Yule Log ceremonies will take place Christmas Eve at the Inn, Lodge and Chowan's Tavern, where guests will toast sprigs of holly on the blazing fires, symbolizing the end of the year.

This series of the Christmas games - an ancient Virginia custom - will take place at the Public Magazine on December 22, where colonial militiamen will fire horse pistols and cannon salutes. That evening, groups of carolers will serenade the town and a contest for group and solo singers and musicians will be held on the Court House green. The "Mistletoe Ball" will be held at the Williamsburg Lodge from 9 to 12 p.m.

Those with a large appetite can feast in the colonial manner, December 23, at the "grazing board" at Campbell's Tavern, a favorite eating place of George Washington. That evening, guests are invited to Mr. Wythe's annual Open House where there will be music and refreshments - and only the genial host of Thomas Jefferson will be absent.

Following the Yule Log ceremonies on Christmas Eve, guests will attend the lighting of the Community Tree across the green from the St. George Tucker House where the first Christmas tree was decorated in Williamsburg early in the 19th century.

Christmas Day everyone is invited to Open House at the Capitol where many official parties and balls were given during colonial days.

A square dance will be held December 26 at the Williamsburg Lodge and December 27, Williamsburg guests will have the unique experience of attending a plantation Christmas party at "Berkeley," ancestral home of the Harrison family. Tickets include free transportation from the city to the James River plantation.

December 29, Paul's Puppets, popular Baltimore TV show, will present "Rumplestiltskin" at the

Notes From Your County Agent

BY E. R. "DICK" COCKRELL, JR.

VIRGINIA TEAMS COMPETE AT EASTERN LIVESTOCK SHOW

Both the state 4-H and the VPI collegiate livestock judging team placed near the top at the recent Eastern National Livestock show at Timonium, Md.

The state 4-H team placed second in judging of all classes, and second in cattle, sheep and hog classes. Donald Harris, Fairfax was third high individual; Luther Zirkle of Shenandoah was sixth; and Billy Carr, Isle of Wight, was seventh, in all classes. Harris was third in cattle and hogs; Carr was second in sheep; and Zirkle was fifth in cattle and sheep.

The other member of the 4-H team is Billy Fowle of Shenandoah.

The VPI collegiate team placed third in overall livestock judging, second in beef and swine, E. B. Eller, Chatham, was second high individual. Other team members are: Ralph Moore, Martinsville; Tom Clark, Proffitt; Jim Perkins, Kents Store; and Jim Swecker, Blue Grass with Dr. Heginbotham of Amherst and Louis Schlemann of Portsmouth as alternates.

Teams from Tennessee and Ohio placed first and second, respectively, in the collegiate judging; and West Virginia 4-Hers topped in the 4-H competition.

UNIFORM PLAN FOR IDENTIFYING CATTLE PROCEEDS IN VIRGINIA

The "Christmas" tree effect contrived when there are several different identifying tags for herd improvement or disease control programs in cattle is becoming passé in Virginia.

A nationwide, uniform plan for identifying dairy and beef cattle with only one ear tag for each animal is underway and proceeding smoothly in Virginia.

The office of the veterinarian in the State Department of Agriculture is responsible for making assignments of numbers and block assignments of numbers and the VPI Agricultural Extension Service is using the block assigned to it in the dairy herd improvement association and artificial breeding programs.

The plan is based on a number system which provides enough combinations of letters and numbers to tag more than eight billion cattle in the United States and territories without a single duplication. The system provides 100,000 different numbers for each state.

In the past, identification numbers for cattle have been duplicated nationally, and even within the same state, often resulting in considerable confusion when the records are handled on modern record-keeping machinery. This was particularly true in the DHIA program of proving dairy sires by dam and daughter comparisons.

Dr. Elmore says the plan has these major advantages: no duplication of identification numbers, only one tag per animal, and no additional cost to individuals and groups. It is a simple and much improved system.

ADVANTAGES, DISADVANTAGES LISTED FOR CAGE LAYERS

What about cage layers? E. R. Cockrell, county agent, says this is an oft-asked question in Princess Anne county these days, and he has this to say about keeping laying hens in cages.

There is no accurate information on the relative profit of cage and floor layers in Virginia. Several producers have taken the cages out after using them a while. Cockrell says anyone interested in cages should visit some cage installations, and even then it would be desirable to try a few layers in cages and compare the results with birds on the floor before investing heavily in cages.

Generally, several advantages are claimed for cage layers. They enable the producer to get definite information on the production of each bird. Slightly less feed is required per dozen eggs. There will be lower mortality in the flock, and egg eating will be kept at a minimum. Parasite troubles are reduced, and there will be fewer extremely dirty eggs. If the cages are kept filled there will be a uniform yearly production.

On the other hand, birds in cages cannot stand very cold and very hot weather as well as the birds on the floor. When temperature in the building gets to freezing or below, production is affected. A heater in the winter and fans in the summer are necessary for best results.

More labor is required with cages than with floor birds. Estimates are that one man will handle 1/4 to 1/2 fewer birds in cages. Continuous brooding and rearing of pullets is necessary if constant culling is done and the cages are kept filled. Culls seem to be harder to handle when birds are in cages. Treatment for lice and mites is more difficult, and fly control is a serious problem with cage layers.

COMING EVENTS

Several dates of interest to farmers have been announced by the VPI Agricultural Extension Service.

On the agenda in Virginia during the next few months are: a short course for dairy herd improvement association superiors, December 3-15 at VPI; the state 4-H tractor clinic, January 3-5 at VPI; winter swine sales, February 6 at Suffolk, February 8 at Winchester, and February 12 at Tappahannock; the annual meeting of the Virginia State Beekeepers Association, February 14 and 15 at Winchester; and the annual pasture school for livestock men and dairymen, February 24 and 27 at the Middleburg branch of VPI Experiment Station.

Counting Heads

How would you like to have the job of counting all the cattle, hogs, sheep, horses, mules, and poultry in Virginia?

That's the task facing the Cooperative Crop Reporting Service of the Virginia and U. S. Department of Agriculture.

With the help of farmers, and the U. S. Post Office, we've been getting an accurate estimate of the livestock and poultry holdings," says Henry M. Taylor, State Statistician.

Rural mail carriers this week are distributing more than 14,000 livestock and poultry inventory cards throughout the State.

"If the postman leaves a card in your box, be sure to fill it out as accurately as you can and return it promptly," Mr. Taylor urges.

These cards are the main sources of information in determining the number of livestock and poultry on Virginia farms. Figures reported will be added to those from all other States so that the final estimate will include all livestock and poultry on U. S. farms and ranches as of January 1.

Farmers and businessmen use these estimates in planning their operations.

The number of cigarettes manufactured is likely to continue to rise in 1957. However, about the same amount of flue-cured and burley are likely to be used as this year, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. More cigarettes apparently are being made per pound of tobacco than formerly. An increased proportion of filter tips which use less tobacco per cigarette, more complete use of tobacco leaves is probably responsible.

THE NEXT STEP

The speed of modern life tempts us to think of our goals and to forget the importance of a single step. But the men who scale the highest peaks concentrate on one step at a time.

There seem to be plenty of folks with noble aspirations who rarely go to Church. Some of them may reach their goals; but legions are the others whose "one false step" starts an avalanche of broken hopes.

The steady, sincere, every-Sunday church-goer usually has noble aspirations and a far better chance of achieving them! He has learned to study each step by faith and prayer... to test the ground on which he treads... to climb with others in a common quest of the summits of life. Destiny depends on the next step!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of a character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs the moral and financial support of its members. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The MIXING BOWL..

IT'S Fun TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK
SUN-NEWS FOOD EDITOR

For the very latest in food fads and fables... for practical, down-to-earth recipes that please both palates and pocketbook, read the "Mixing Bowl" by Lucile Clark each Thursday in the Sun-News.

It hardly seems possible we could be planning for another Christmas - but it's certainly so & I think you might like some of these recipes. They're the best, right from Martha Logan Home Economist for Swift and Company, from her latest "Our Best Cookie Recipe" book.

Before I give you the recipes here are some Cookie baking tips:
1. There's no need to rub the cookie sheet with shortening unless the recipe says you should.
2. Always use straight cookie sheet that is not too large to prevent the circulation of air within the oven.

3. Use quality ingredients. I can heartily recommend Swift's All-Sweet Margarine, Swift's Brookfield Butter, Swift's Brookfield Eggs. In fact Swift's products are quality products. Butter & Margarine are 80% fat in a slow oven (300°F.) about 5. Therefore, use the type of fat called for in the recipes.
4. Use all-purpose flour unless cake flour is indicated.

To store Cookies you will need a covered container or store in the pan in which they are baked. (Cover the pan tightly with foil or waxed paper.) Crisp Cookies should be stored loosely in a covered container. If they absorb moisture from the air, crisp them in minutes. Soft Cookies should be stored in a tightly covered container.

You can freeze cookies and Martha Logan says, arrange bars on waxed paper or cardboard.
You can wrap in freezer wrap; seal & freeze. Allow 15 minutes for thawing.

Now you can get busy and get your Christmas Cookies baked & frozen before those last minute things have to be done.
Here are some recipes for the bar & cake type cookies.

BUTTERSCOTCH MERINGUE BARS
(A Chewy Bar Topped with Meringue)
Yield: 2 dozen bars
1/4 cup Swift's Shortening
1 1/2 cups sifted flour

1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup brown sugar, packed
2 Swift's Brookfield egg yolks
2 Swift's Brookfield egg whites
1 cup brown sugar, packed
1 cup chopped nuts
1 teaspoon vanilla
Combine flour, baking powder, salt, and 1/2 cup brown sugar. Cut in shortening. Add egg yolks, and mix until crumbly. Pack into a 7x11-inch pan. Beat egg whites until stiff; add 1 cup brown sugar slowly. Blend thoroughly, then add nuts and vanilla. Spread on top of crumb mixture. Bake in a slow oven (325°F.) 30 minutes. Cut into bars.

BUTTERSCOTCH CONFECTION

Cream butter until soft and fluffy. Add 2 cups flour and mix thoroughly. Spread into 8x12 1/2-inch pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) for 15 minutes. Beat eggs and 1/4 cup flour, baking powder, salt, sugar, vanilla, coconut, and nuts. Mix and pour over baked crust. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) for 30 minutes. 1/2 teaspoon salt
4 1/2 to 5 cups sifted flour
Mix together the eggs, cream, and sugar. Stir in butter, lemon juice, cardamom, salt, and 2 cups of flour. Mix well. Stir in more flour to make a stiff dough. Wrap in waxed paper and chill at least 1 hour. Remove 1/4 of the dough at a time, and roll out on a lightly floured board or pastry cloth until paper thin. Cut into 2-inch diamonds. Cut a slit in the center of each and pull one corner through. Fry in deep fat heated to 350°F. until delicately brown, about 1/2 minute. Dust with powdered sugar before serving.

If you're making your fruit cake & want to give them a festive touch - Glaze them. To make a glaze for 3-loaf-type cake - combine 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup corn syrup & 1/2 cup water. Cook until mixture forms a soft ball (about 330°F). Cool slightly, spread on cake. While moist arrange a garnish of candied fruits & nuts. When firm, wrap cakes in moisture-proof wrap or store in covered containers.

Swedish Tea Ring

Slices of warm Swedish Tea Ring teamed with hot spiced tea or coffee lend a festive air to holiday entertaining.

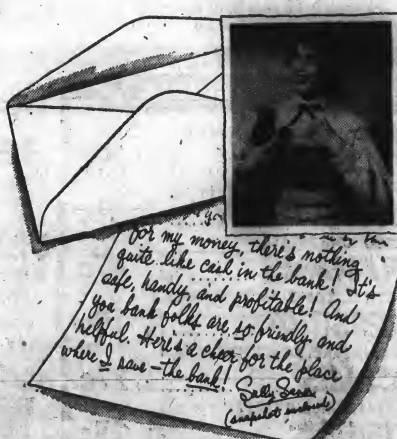

Make your holiday baking a "foreign affair" with a Swedish Tea Ring. This sweet yeast dough coffee cake is filled with spicy cinnamon sugar and topped with confectioners' sugar icing after baking. "Fancy" this bread further by arranging chopped nuts and Christmas-like candied cherries and citron or angelica over the icing.

Serve Swedish Tea Ring on Christmas morning as a special family treat. Or, feature fresh, warm slices anytime during the holidays when you're serving coffee or spiced tea to guests. Home-baked products add a note of hospitality.

Your baker's coffee rings, cookies and pastries for the Christmas season also ring an inviting note. So, when you want to serve something sweet and festive but haven't the time to do-it-yourself, take a look at your baker's shelves.

Baked goods you buy, like those you make yourself, contain enriched flour for added nutritional value. Enriched flour provides extra amounts of three essential B vitamins and feed iron at no extra cost.

SWEDISH TEA RING
1 package yeast, compressed or dry
1/4 cup water (lukewarm for compressed yeast, warm for dry)
1/2 cup milk
1/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons shortening
1 egg
3 cups sifted enriched flour (about)
Melted butter or margarine
Cinnamon sugar
Confectioners' sugar icing
Brush with melted butter or margarine, and sprinkle with cinnamon sugar. Roll up like jelly-roll and seal edge firmly. Shape into ring on greased baking sheet, pressing ends together to seal. With scissors, cut through roll almost to center, in slices 1 inch apart. Turn each slice slightly on its side. Let rise until doubled. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) 35 to 40 minutes. When cool, frost with confectioners' sugar icing. Makes 1 tea ring.

This Is The Season of Beginnings

This is the season for giving thanks. This is the season in which joy and happiness should reign. But no matter what the time of year, it is always a season of beginnings.

For those June graduates, the transition has been made from family allowances to company payrolls. Now they are on their own, and the point has been well established. The future is seen in different perspective.

For those June brides and bridegrooms, the honeymoon is over. The transition has been made from those stars-in-the-eyes courtship days to the dollar-sign realities of a not-so-romantic world. Their future, too, is seen in changed perspective.

For these beginners' classes in life, the future depends largely on the start. Not that a wrong start dooms anyone to ultimate failure; our ways can be mended—life is so good to us that way.

But how much better the future, if wrong starts are avoided. And there are so many guideposts along those early stretches of the new life of responsibilities to save our beginners from straying down dead-end roads.

Yes, the dollar-sign is a mighty factor in this season of beginnings. The moralists will say there is more—much—in life than money. And they are so right. But without money, there isn't much. That's the lesson our beginners must learn, right from the start, now that they're on their own.

Money—not just for today and tomorrow. Money for next year and the next and the next; money for a lifetime. Money for sickness; for enjoyment of health. Money for a home; for a family; for those children so happily dreamed of; for their proper upbringing and preparation for what some day will be for them, too, a new life of responsibilities.

It's a good world in which today's Beginners' classes find themselves—a world of wondrous opportunities. Most of those recent graduates, most of the husbands of those recent brides are receiving beginners' salaries that their fathers and grandfathers only dreamed of earning after years of hard work. Today's beginners in life have the money; it's how they use it that counts.

That's where those guideposts can be such a help. The older folks have learned—many of them the hard way—how much easier it is to meet the needs of future years with a balanced financial program. Not just a balance of income and outgo, as sometimes it's unthinkingly described. But a program that balances income on the one hand against savings and spendings on the other.

The world today is so good to its neophytes. Beginners' salaries have incomes that, with proper planning, make possible the regular setting aside for future-year needs right from the start. Nor is that the only bright spot in today's perspective of future years. It's so much easier to save today. Government Savings Bonds fit into family planning so much more readily than anything that Grandpa had in his day. Better returns; nothing more secure; and payments of the hardy-fee-them type on the Payroll Savings Plan at work or the Bond-A-Month Plan of banks.

Millions of older—generalized—Americans are living proof to this oncoming generation that U. S. Savings Bonds belong in every family's picture of the future. With such a start, right from earliest beginnings, "How Firm a Foundation" will have new meaning as dreams come true.

The following dates have been reported for the Christmas Program in the Beach Grove and St. Michael's Churches. Beach Grove - Sunday, December 23rd, 7:00 P. M. You don't have to be a PENNY PINCHER

Getting-ahead financially is not a matter of "pinching pennies." Quite to the contrary! Actually you can spend money more happily (because free from worries and misgivings) once you have embarked on a program of systematic saving.

First step is to establish the amount that you reasonably can and most certainly will save each payday. Then see to it that these dollars go promptly into your savings account every week... before they have a chance to go elsewhere. You'll have more fun spending what's left... when you do your savings FIRST!

News for and About Local Servicemen

The Dependents' Medical Care Act of 1956, in the words of the law itself is an Act "to create and maintain high morale throughout the uniformed services by providing an improved and uniform program of medical care for members of the Uniformed Services and their dependents." It becomes effective December 7, 1956.

Why was the Act needed? For many years the various branches of the service have provided medical care to military dependents on an "available basis. Because of overtaxed facilities, distance, or the type of treatment needed was not available, nearly half of all service dependents had no medical care except at their own expense. The Act provides that service hospitals, facilities permitting, will look after dependents regardless of branch of service membership. For these dependents too distant for access to service hospitals, medical care through civilian facilities will include (1) hospitalization in semi-private accommodations, including all services and supplies furnished by the hospital during confinement, (2) medical and surgical care incident to hospitalization, (3) complete obstetrical and maternity service (4) diagnostic tests and procedures incident to a period of hospitalization.

In general, the care to be provided in civilian medical facilities will be the same as in military or naval hospitals, except for the exclusion of the normal out-patient care. Ordinary visits to the doctor's office will not be paid for, but the Secretary of Defense can authorize for payment some services sometimes considered out-patient care, such as minor surgery in a doctor's office, or X-ray or laboratory tests in clinics or laboratories not associated with hospitals.

I have been informed that the serviceman will have to pay $1.75 for each day of hospitalization of his dependent, or $25.00, whichever is greater.

High blood pressure, man's greatest killer, will be investigated through large-scale drug research just beginning, Veterans Administration announced.

Dr. Edward D. Freis of the VA Mount Alto Hospital in Washington, D. C., is coordinator of the program.

He said the study is aimed at determining how well newer drugs control high blood pressure and whether they can prevent hardening of the arteries, heart attacks, strokes, and other complications of the disease.

Six VA hospitals will carry out the research, he said. In addition to Mount Alto, they are at Richmond, Va.; Iowa City, Iowa; San Juan, Puerto Rico, and Chicago West Side, with a sixth to be chosen.

Dr. Freis said the drugs under test are reserpine, which is a tranquilizer; hydralazine, a powerful dilator of blood vessels, and penicillium tartrate, chlorazondamine chloride, and mecamylamine hydrochloride. The latter three are synthetic compounds that block transmission of nerve impulses in the blood vessels.

When patients with high blood pressure are admitted to the six participating hospitals, evaluations of their conditions, including laboratory and X-ray procedures, will be made, Dr. Freis said.

Q — Under the War Orphans Education program, may special restorative training be taken by a disabled young person on a part-time basis?

A — No. Special restorative training must be full-time. However, VA will determine what constitutes full-time training, based on the capacities of the individual.

Q — My husband died on active duty, and I am drawing monthly Servicemen's Indemnity payments. After December 31, 1956, will I be allowed to continue drawing these payments, along with Indemnity Compensation payments under the new Survivors Benefits Act?

A — No. Indemnity Compensation under the law is not payable unless you surrender your rights to Servicemen's Indemnity payments.

The Area Representative of the Virginia Division of War Veterans' Claims from Norfolk; Thomas A. Moore, announces his next service trip to this locality for the next week, at which time he will interview veterans or their survivors as usual. Moore assists such clients with their application forms, and Government papers, and any other necessary services toward obtaining for them their lawful benefits, based on service in the Armed Forces. His schedule is below:

At The Community House, 18th St. & Arctic Ave., Virginia Beach, from 11:00 AM to 3:00 PM on Thursday, December 13, 1956.

Moore visits this same location on every second and fourth Thursday, each month. On other days he can be reached in the office at 306-6 McKevitt Bldg., 203 E. City Hall Ave., in Norfolk. His telephone there is MADison 2-9671.

FT. STORY

PORT STORY, Va. — Two men from Fort Story have been awarded The Soldiers Medal, the nation's highest decoration for non-combatant valor.

Privates First Class Willis D. Bassett and Robert L. Blaskie, assigned to the 461st Amphibious Truck Company — nicknamed The Buccaneers — at Fort Story, have been awarded the medal for the rescue of a soldier stranded on top of a sunken amphibious vehicle off Cape Henry, Virginia about 4:30 a.m. on May 8, 1956.

Two LVT's (Landing Vehicle Tracked), returning from a training exercise, swamped in rough water about 50 yards offshore as they attempted to go around a stone retaining wall on the beach. Ten men were trapped a top the sunken vehicles. In spite of waves described by witnesses as "the highest ever seen in this area," Bassett and Blaskie entered the surf in their amphibious DUKW and began rescue attempts for the crew of the LVT swamped furthest from shore. Another DUKW attempted to enter the water but was unable to do so.

The men being decorated were able to take off one of the stranded crewmen, Private Willie Stewart, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Stewart, Box 951, Freer, Texas. The six men on the LVT nearest shore were able to swim to safety with assistance of their life belts. Three men on the far vehicle were washed away and drowned before aid could reach them.

Bassett, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bassett of Dixon, Missouri, was particularly commended for continuing to drive their DUKW even after its hull had been punctured when waves slammed against one of the sunken LVT's. Blaskie, 29, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Blaskie, 519 Summit Avenue, Webster Grove, Missouri, was honored for risking his life in balancing far out over the side of the DUKW to save Stewart.

The actual presentation of the medals will be Fort Story in the near future.

Ship-to-shore telephone service has been made available to passengers on the Canadian Pacific Steamship Lines' new 26,000-ton passenger ship, Empress of Britain, by A. T. and T.'s Long Lines Department. The Empress of Britain is the 36th passenger ship to have constant telephone service available to passengers.

Do You Give Enough to Church?

The bulk of church members give little more than pittances to keep their churches going, according to a copyrighted article in the November issue of Changing Times, The Kiplinger Magazine.

The overwhelming majority of giving is on a $1-a-week basis. But many occasional church attenders contribute as little as $2 a year for the support of the church to which they are anxious to come on Christmas and Easter.

Of the ten Protestant churches receiving the greatest total contributions, Presbyterians (U.S.) gave the most, an average of $75.84 per member a year. Lutherans (Missouri Synod) were next with $67.82 and Presbyterians (U.S.A.), third, with an average member contribution of $61.47. The other seven: Congregational Christian, $54.76; Protestant Episcopal, $51.84; Lutheran (United), $50.25; Baptist (American Convention), $43.17; Baptist (Southern Convention), $42.17; Methodist, $37.53; and Disciples of Christ, $34.77. If you really want to help your church financially, pledge for the year. Your pastor will appreciate knowing he can count on a certain sum from you.

If you don't go to church very often, there is even more reason for you to make a firm pledge for the whole year. Your church cannot function on mere token support. And you expect the church to be operating when you go.

If you already use envelopes, you might give thought to a substantial increase.

Pay on time, too. Remember church expenses take no vacation. A church that has to fight to get ahead usually is a live church. But don't let this thought comfort too much. Most people, say church leaders, could double their contributions without straining their pocketbooks and with considerable beneficial effect on the church. The question is, the editors ask, Could you?

Beach Students Win National Honors

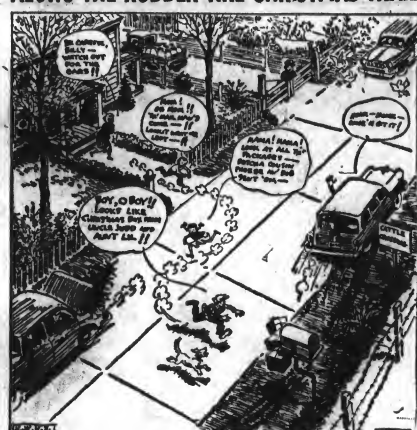

Mrs. Julie B. Hudgins beloved Latin teacher of Virginia Beach High School has worked long and diligently with her students to make sure that they receive the best instruction possible. Each year has a test to see how her students compare with students of other schools of the Nation, she administers the exam, given by the National Association for the Promotion of the Study of Latin, under the direction of Dr. A. E. Worsley of Elizabeth, New Jersey.

The results of these tests have been most gratifying to Mrs. Hudgins and to her pupils. In the six years that these examinations have been given many students have received grades from 90 to 115 for which they were awarded certificates of honor by the National Association. In this same period six Virginia Beach students have won medals from the association for having made 115, 116, 117 points out of a possible 120.

In 1954 a trophy was sent to Mr. James A. Johnson, Jr., Principal of the school for the three medals won by Caroline Meachum, and two by Roger Keenoy. Last week a second trophy was awarded to the school in recognition of the two medals won by Joyce Beasley and one Rosalie Kelsey. In the six years that the examinations have been given less than one percent of the pupils in the Latin classes of Virginia Beach High School have made grades below the medium average. Last year more than twenty-five thousand students from all parts of U. S. and Canada participated in the examination.

Virginia's millionth telephone was presented to Governor Thomas B. Stanley on November 1, 1956.

Million-Dollar Advertising Promotion for Va. Beach

Virginia Beach will figure in a million-dollar advertising promotion to attract tourists and sight-seers to Tidewater Virginia next year.

"And that estimate is conservative," said Sidney Banks, chairman of the Virginia Beach Advertising Committee. He said he has been assured that various transportation media, represented at a travel seminar last week at the Cavalier Club, are substantially increasing their advertising budgets.

Democracy is a Living Thing

We hear much of racial discords and injustices. We should hear more of the opportunities this country offers to people of diverse colors, creeds, and nationalities.

The other day a Hindu, born in India, was elected to Congress. One may approve or disapprove of his particular partisan allegiance and his views on government. But what the Chinese World published in San Francisco, said of this occurrence is of much greater importance. "In the United States any loyal citizen who devotes himself to public service has an equal chance with other Americans to attain public office." It added that the new Congressman is making a trip to India "to inform the peoples of Asia that in America democracy is a living, active thing, and not just a theoretical device to serve propaganda purposes."

State Guard Unit to Train At Pendleton

A Virginia National Guard detachment will be held this summer at Camp Pendleton, near Virginia Beach, for the first time since 1948, Brig. Gen. Sheppard Crump, the state's adjutant general, announced Wednesday.

Crump said the 1000 Engineering Battalion in the Gate City-Big Stone Gap - Highlands area will train at the 1800-acre camp July 7-21.

Crump said he also had asked the Second Army for permission to send the 197th Anti-Aircraft Artillery Brigade, headquartered at Sandston, to Camp Pendleton next August. The brigade comprises 1,700 men in the Richmond area. The camp was used as a coast artillery camp during World War II and returned to state ownership as a military reservation after the war. It can house about 3,500 men.

Music Program to be Presented by High School Chorus

The Virginia Beach High School Senior and Junior Chorus and the band will present a music program Thursday night, December 20, 1956 at 8:00 o'clock P. M. in the school auditorium.

The high school and junior high school choruses are conducted by Mr. J. William Miller, who has just recently received his Master's Degree from Columbia University. The band leader is Mr. Walt Griffith, who has his Master's Degree from Columbia and plays with the Norfolk Symphony Orchestra.

The program will include traditional carols and hymns, and will conclude with the Hallelujah Chorus from The Messiah.

Dr. Hancock Appointed

Gov. Stanley today appointed Dr. Ira L. Hancock of Princess Anne County to the State Hospital Board.

Hancock, 48-year-old physician, will succeed Lewis Garland Chewning, Richmond businessman, who resigned. The appointment, subject to confirmation by the General Assembly.

A native of Richmond, Hancock has practiced in Princess Anne for 23 years. His home is in Creeds.

Last October he was selected by the Medical Society of Virginia as "The General Practitioner of the Year" an annual award to an outstanding doctor in general practice.

Hancock is expected to attend his first meeting of the hospital board here tomorrow, the governor's office said in announcing the appointment.

25th St. Parkway To be Beautified By Garden Club

The Jr. Virginia Beach Garden Club voted in recently to undertake a long term project beautification of the 25th Street Parkway.

It was felt that improvement here would be a definite asset to the Community due to the location of the Virginia Beach High School, and for the same reason would be appreciated by the greatest number of people.

(The high school having an appeal to so many residents other than and including the students and their immediate families.)

In May of 1955 a Children's Home Show and Country Fair was held to raise money for the project. Planting began in June of the same year.

Magnolia, Dogwoods, and Crepe Myrtles have been planted in all blocks.

Concentration has been centered on the middle block. Numerous evergreens have been planted there, to which Pyracantha, Holly, and Black Pine were added in November of this year.

Work will be continued in the middle block until there is a suitable stand of grass and a garden-like look throughout.

Extensive planting was begun in this particular block because it is the only one not showing the abuse of parking.

Another Junior Horse Show will be held next April to raise money for further planting.

This horse show will be held under the direction of Mrs. Gerry M. Ashburn, a charter member of the Garden Club.

The Jr. Virginia Beach Garden Club is sponsored by the Virginia Beach Garden Club and was organized by the Daughters and Daughters-in-Law of the Sr. club members.

Dr. Thomas Guest Speaker Sunday

Dr. John Newton Thomas, dean of the graduate school of the Union Theological Seminary in Richmond, will be the guest preacher at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday.

How to Help Your Youngster Learn

Whether your young child is exceptionally bright or not, here are some ways to help him learn: Let him talk as much as he likes. And listen. Speak correctly to him. Answer his questions patiently—even when they get on your nerves. Encourage him to reason, to plan ahead, to follow instructions. But don't press him to learn. And don't teach him to read—that is a specialist's job.

Have faith in him. If he is like other kids, five. If he is different, that is fine, too. Let him know that he is yours and he is okay.

These lucky youngsters are telling Santa Claus all the things they want for Christmas. The scene is at Santa Land in Virginia Beach's Community House. Santa is on hand each day from 10 a.m. until 8 p.m. In addition to gifts the youngsters can watch television and movies. The project was arranged by the Virginia Beach Retail Merchants. Shore Drive Bus Service Begins Operation Today Down town bus service for Eastern Shore shoppers in Norfolk and Shore Drive commuter service were announced Monday by the Community Motor Bus Co.

The new runs will begin today and tomorrow largely restoring bus service lost with the advent of the Carolina Coach Co. (Trunkways) strike more than a month ago.

At its meeting last week, the City Council agreed to open negotiations for restoring downtown bus service for Little Creek-Kiptopeke Beach ferry passengers.

The bus company and City Manager Thomas P. Maxwell announced jointly the successful completion of the negotiations. In addition, the transit firm, whose home office is in Portsmouth, disclosed plans for the Shore Drive commuter route to serve the thickly populated Robbins Corner-Diamond Spring - Waterworks areas.

A. V. Stewart, Community Motor Bus Co. transportation supervisor, said the State Corporation Commission has granted a temporary permit for the services.

The company began Virginia Beach-to-Norfolk service, via Virginia Beach boulevard, on Dec. 1. Origin and destination terminals of the Shore Drive run will be 80th street and Atlantic avenue, Virginia Beach, and the Trailways Bus terminal Plume street and Atlantic avenue, Virginia Beach, and the Trailways Bus terminal, Plume street, Norfolk.

The bus will leave Virginia Beach and follow Shore Drive (Route 60) from Port Story to Chesapeake Junction and then south on Waterworks road to serve the Robbins Corner-Diamond Spring - Waterworks areas. The same route will be followed on the out-bound trip from downtown Norfolk.

Bloodmobile Receives Only 35 Pints of Blood

Only 35 pints of blood were collected during a visit of the bloodmobile here Monday afternoon.

Red Cross officials yesterday attributed the small turn-out to the fact that the visit was the second of the bloodmobile within a month, making it impossible for many of the regular donors to donate.

They point out, however, that since the county's annual quota has been set at 800 pints it will be necessary for this to happen at least twice a year. For that reason they are seeking many new donors.

The visit, sponsored by local Scout organizations, was held in the art department of the Virginia Beach High School.

Civilians Sell Christmas Trees

The Annual Christmas Tree Sale of the Virginia Beach Civitan Club is now under way at their lot on Pacific Avenue just South of 31st Street. A carload of choice Blue Spruce and Balsam trees was delivered on Tuesday December 11, and members of the Civitan Club, assisted by the Junior Civilians from the Virginia Beach High School, are manning the lot every day and evening until Christmas Day.

The Civitan Christmas Tree Sale has become an annual institution at Virginia Beach. Funds from the sale are used to support the many civic projects which the club undertakes. During the coming year, one of the major projects will be the Foundation for Mentally Retarded and Handicapped Children, a project which was officially adopted by the Chesapeake District of Civitan International in the spring of this year.

Price For Annexation of Princess Anne Area Announced

A $3,049,935.20 price tag Monday was tied to a 13.5 square-mile slice of Princess Anne County offered Norfolk last August by a special annexation tribunal.

The bill, making the property a part of the city was set in a special opinion filed by the judges of the court. Payment dates listed in the opinion indicated the city would take over the area on Jan. 1, 1958—if it intends to expand.

Mayor W. Fred Duckworth said a decision by the municipal government should be forthcoming within a week. Conferences between the City Council and its annexation attorneys will be held during the week.

Spokesmen for the city government indicated the price was higher than anticipated. Actual city estimates have been guarded carefully lest it tip its hand to the county.

The $3 million-plus set by the judges compares with $10 million paid for the 11.6 square miles of Tanners Creek annexed from Norfolk County on Jan. 1, 1955.

Tanners Creek was highly developed, with complete school, fire, police and sewerage systems. The Princess Anne area—representing less than half of the 33 square miles Norfolk had hoped to get—includes the large expanse of city-owned land which makes up the Municipal Airport, Azalea Gardens and Welfare Center.

In fixing the price, the court said the county must be paid $100,000 for loss of revenue from the area. It said $50,000 should be paid on Jan. 1, 1958, and the final $50,000 on Jan. 1, 1959.

In addition, a cash payment of $241,246 was listed as due for property taxes on the area.

The city also would have to assume $270,000.20 in debt.

The portion of the county debt due from the expansion area on a proportionate basis.

Judge Elliott Marshall of Front Royal, Judge Lytleton Waddell of Charlottesville and Judge Floyd E. Kellam of Princess Anne make up the special annexation court. They also explained why they had fixed 13.5 square miles as the expansion limit.

In seeking 33 square miles, they said, the city proposed to take in highly developed areas at the northern (East Ocean View-Little Creek) and southern (Virginia Beach boulevard route) extremes of the territory. In between was too much productive farming land.

"These farms are highly productive truck and dairy establishments, actively operated as profitable agricultural tracts," the court said. "Proposals to develop some of these tracts have been made, and some scattered subdivisions laid out. In the main, however, it is undeveloped."

The court said Norfolk and Princess Anne possess some characteristics which make the situation in this annexation case different from the usual one. It added:

"Generally the growth and development around a municipality may be attributed to growth of the business and industry within the city. In our case this is only partially true."

"There is in Norfolk comparatively little industry for a town of its size, as the term industry is generally used. In a more realistic sense, however, the great naval base and the activities connected therewith are as truly an industry located in the city as a great factory would be."

"On the other hand, the military installations—Naval Air Station, Oceana and Dean Hook, which are the growth of Princess Anne County may in part be attributed, have no connection with the city of Norfolk itself."

"The Amphibious Base at Little Creek lies so near the city that it may be fairly claimed as a Norfolk industry. Yet, the County argues with some force that it was located in Princess Anne, not because of the geographical location of the location. It makes little difference which of these claims is more meritorious."

"The fact is that, as in the case of every industry located near a city, some of the personnel connected with this installation lives in Norfolk, others in the area immediately adjacent to the city and others at more remote locations within the County."

"Princess Anne also differs from other counties in its governmental setup. The services furnished by the county, to the citizens in the highly developed portion of the County more nearly approximate those supplied by municipalities—particularly in the matter of fire and police protection, garbage collection, sanitation, building control, planning and zoning."

"In fact, from the testimony of both city and county, it may well be doubted whether the tax dollars by built-up sections of the proposed annexation area would in the event of annexation receive any substantial benefits from becoming a part of the city."

"The court said it was not convinced it is 'necessary or expedient' for the city to get all of the 33 square miles it said farm area would be left to be increased taxes with no evidence of extra benefits not already provided by the county."

"The city had argued last summer that the court was not providing sufficient future growth room in 13.5 square miles. The court presumes expansion."

"The court presumes expansion."

Seven Join Operation 'Deep Freeze'

Operation "Deep Freeze", who will be joined by seven more, are now at the South Pole, the last geographical frontier, and where they are battling a scientific obstacle which makes the scientific materials and equipment, including a tractor, have been parachuted to them thus far, and about 500 tons more are to follow.

Snug, well-fed, in touch by radio they prove that the frontiers of science move on and on—that there will always be further knowledge to seek.

James Receives "Best All-Round Player Award"

The high school football team here was so loaded with talent this past season that the Virginia Beach Sports Club started a new award.

The honor is that of "best all-around player" and the winner this year was Harold James, Virginia Beach High School's stand-out quarterback. His name goes on a plaque which the Sports Club has presented to the school.

James' award, a key chain medal, will be presented to him when it arrives.

Guard Pat Standing received the "outstanding lineman" trophy and fullback Tommy Barnes the "outstanding back" trophy. Presentations were made at a luncheon here yesterday at the Charcoal Room. Claiborne R. Bryant, chairman of the awards committee, made the presentations.

Club President Johnny Doyle introduced football coach Jackie Freeman of the College of William and Mary and assistant coaches Elmer Barber of Wake Forest and Jim Hickey of the University of North Carolina. Each spoke briefly.

Coach Fred Isaacs and his assistants, Claude King, Jim Cook and Ed Stowers, and members of the Seaboard's District 1, Group II champions were honored guests of the club.

Isaacs, who is expected to leave his school position before another season, received praise from several quarters.

Salk Vaccine

The importance of taking all three doses of Salk polio vaccine has been repeatedly stressed. This has been further emphasized by a group of Chicago scientists who this week reported the results of a small-scale study to the American Public Health Association, currently meeting in Atlantic City.

They stated that some batches of Salk vaccine may be stronger or weaker than others in creating protection against paralytic polio. The third inoculation of what might be a weaker vaccine apparently brings about good protection in most children. It gives a good booster effect in persons who may not have responded well to the first two doses of the very same vaccine.

These workers said that undue stress is sometimes put on the failure of one or two doses of vaccine to protect some children from paralytic polio and it is overlooked, or even forgotten that three doses should be given if protection is to be obtained.

Dr. Salk reported to the same meeting that one fourth of the cases of polio in adults to age 50 and stated that if persons in this age group and all children are vaccinated, paralytic polio can be practically wiped out in 1957.

Veterans Face Four Major Deadlines

Four major deadlines face veterans now being released or discharged from active service with the Armed Forces, Veterans Administration said.

The most important of these, according to VA, concerns GI insurance and affects veterans who have been released from active service since September 8, 1945.

Instead of having 120 days in which to apply for a special type of five-year term, nonconvertible GI insurance, these newly discharged veterans must apply before midnight, December 31, 1956.

This deadline was set by the recently enacted Servicemen's and Veterans' Survivor Benefits Act, which revised the death benefits program for the beneficiaries of veterans who die as a result of service.

Veterans with service during the Korean conflict (June 27, 1950 through January 31, 1955) should remember that they have three years from the date of their discharge or separation to apply for education and training under the GI Bill, VA said.

Korean conflict veterans also should keep in mind, according to the agency, that most of them have only a year from the date of their discharge or separation in which to apply for dental treatment. Exceptions to the one-year rule are those veterans who are receiving disability compensation for a service-connected dental condition, or those veterans whose dental disabilities are as a result of combat injuries or service injuries. They may apply at any time.

The same rules for dental treatment apply to peacetime veterans and six-month enlistees, except that the latter two groups must have been discharged for disability incurred in line of duty or so receiving VA compensation for a service-connected disability.

GI home loan deadline for veterans of the Korean conflict period is January 31, 1956. This date is far enough away, VA said, so that most Korean conflict veterans may take the time they need to select a home, fund or business to be bought with GI financing.

HAPPY HOLIDAYS

A child wants to do more than stand and watch while mother enjoys all the fun of preparing for the Christmas season.

The very young like to get a spoon into the cookie dough. Older youngsters enjoy decorating for the arrival of Santa.

An easy way to keep children from under foot for hours is to give them colorful self-stick cloth tapes, plus a few old Christmas cards for design ideas. Created by Mystik in many colors, pressure-sensitive tapes stick to the wood walls of a playroom, and they come away cleanly, leaving no gummy marks.

If it's easier for the child to work at a table, add to the supplies a few sheets of clear plastic waxed paper or old newspapers. The tapes stick well and the completed design can be lifted and mounted in one piece on the wall.

The water resistant tapes also can be used by children to create holiday greetings and designs on the glass of windows, garage doors, front steps and walks, for it sticks well to any dry surface, outdoors as well as in.

Club members brought gifts to be given to the veterans.

Special guests in addition to Mr. Strieby and Mrs. Wadsworth were Mrs. James W. Woodard, Institute Chairman Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. Clyde Fitch, Treasurer, Tidewater District.

"END OF THE ROAD"

United States Armed Forces in Europe have produced a road show, "Highway Police of 1956," which is touring military bases. It consists of a 40-minute stage production and a 10-minute film. By means of skits, it stresses the underlying causes of traffic crashes as attitudes, fatigue, preoccupation and intoxication while the film emphasizes "in-a-hurry" sections of drivers. One of the skits portrays an operating room scene while another shows the "end of the road" as a hit-and-run driver is taken into custody.

What America means to me, is a very great Country. A place to live. A place to give. A long great line which says it is part mine. A country where young men follow the first mans trail. A great country where stars give light. A country that shines very bright. A country where men live in liberty. A country where things are free. A country where things don't depart. A country which has a very strong heart. A country which stands in fights, to keep the country's freedom rights. A country where freedom is long, a nation brave and strong. A country where freedom will ring. A country who fought England's King. A country which will participate, but against another country will debate. A country whose people do their choosing. A country where enemies are always losing. A country God can see. A nation brave and free. A country whose people have no fear. A country whose people cheer. A country whose people say, "Thank you God for the U. S. A."

America with her great strength, has added very much to her length. America with supplying education, has grown a bigger nation.

America and her industry grows a lot for the press is free. For the free enterprise makes a better country. This is what America means to me.

Make Room in Your Heart

Christmas is almost here. Prayers and carols,insel and parties, mingle to express our joy. And the golden threads in the tapestry of celebration are our efforts to help the needy, in our own community and in the larger community of the world.

But how do you measure the degrees of world need? How do you decide who can be helped, and who must be turned away? Because of widespread hunger, CARE launched its 1956 holiday season Food Crusade to distribute 5 million $1 packages of U.S. farm surplus, to help feed 20 million people in 19 countries. Then came the Hungarian crisis. Swiftly, CARE organized a $2,000,000 emergency drive for the victims in Hungary and the refugees fleeing to Austria.

We believe, with CARE, that America's heart is big enough to help both the Hungarian people and the victims of war, tyranny and poverty in other lands. Every $1 to the Food Crusade sends a 22-lb. package, in your name, to help feed four persons for one month. Recipients include refugees in South Korea, Vietnam, Hong Kong, West Berlin and Germany; needy families from Italy to Panama. For Hungarian relief, CARE delivers $70. standard food packages; $5 "Welcome Kits" of toilet articles; $4 blankets, and variously-priced clothing and other supplies purchased as needed.

Make room in your heart, right now. Mail your Christmas donation for the Food Crusade, or Hungarian relief (or both, if you can afford it) to CARE, 660 First Ave., New York 16, N. Y.

Home Town Paper

The case for the hometown newspaper is ably presented by Ralph Keller of Minneapolis, manager of the Minnesota Editorial association, with this analysis:

"The spoken word hits the ear, and is gone. The television image strikes the eye, and is gone. The printed picture and the printed name linger on."

Numerous authentic surveys throughout the United States indicate that an average of 3.5 persons read every weekly newspaper that enters every home as an invited guest. The average length of time each copy is kept around the house is two weeks. Each copy is picked up and looked over by each reader an average of three times. The average length of time each reader spends with each copy of his hometown newspaper is fifty minutes.

"The newspaper is subscribed for, paid for, eagerly looked forward to from issue to issue, and read thoroughly with unquestioning confidence. It doesn't depend on the weather, is not subject to static or interference, is not a 'now or never' messenger—if the newspaper can't be read this evening. When radio and television impulses have petered out in headless space the hometown newspaper still there, to be read and re-read and referred back to again and again."

Christmas Is for Everybody but . . .

While most of us will be enjoying all of the wonderful things that go with Christmas, thousands of police and motor vehicle inspectors will be on duty. Many will be working long hours overtime, some without extra pay. They will be standing at street intersections to guide traffic and protect pedestrians. They will be posted at lonely vigils on dark highways, or driving over slippery roads to help the victims of accidents.

Public recognition and gratitude, says the Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company, is long overdue these men who patrol our highways and safeguard our streets, through all kinds of weather, good or bad.

The Institute estimate that the tragic toll of deaths on the nation's highways between midnight, December 22 and midnight December 31, will probably exceed 1300. These will be deaths due to speeding drinking, and general disregard for highway law and order. How much higher this total would be without the controlling influence of the highway police no one can say. But it is certain that many thousands of Americans will owe their lives and limbs to the "slow down and live" insistence of law enforcement.

To all of these men, for their contribution to safer living on the highways, our 72,000,000 American drivers owe a great debt of thanks. That gratitude and appreciation of a job well done can best be expressed by recognizing that the traffic officer is on duty to help you, not harass you. He wants to save your life, not give you a ticket.

Express your thanks this Christmas by behaving like a sensible human being when you drive your car. Say "Merry Christmas" to the man in uniform by driving more sanely and, thereby, more safely than you have ever driven before.

"Builds Civic Pride"

Would you enjoy your neighbor's eye view of your house and yard? If the answer is no, you have an extra reason to participate in Clean Up, Paint Up, Fix Up program. Be a good neighbor and enjoy happier living yourself.

Yes, a few cents out of the pocket can mean many dollars for your home. Did you know a coat of paint can increase the value of your home 12 per cent? Make your home reflect spring. Brighten inside and out with paint, plant flowers, work on the lawn, clean the garage. Put your best foot forward.

What will your property be worth in five, ten, or fifteen years? It's largely up to you. By cleaning up, painting up, fixing up you can restore or increase the value of your property.

Don't litter the vacant lot in your neighborhood. Put trash in proper containers, leaves and grass cuttings on a compost pile. Your home's value depends a great deal on the appearance of the neighborhood. By removing surrounding eyesores, you can increase your property's worth. Share your extra plants with neighbors and friends in a plant swap. As you thin out your perennials and annuals, don't throw the surplus in the trash. Call a neighbor and offer your plants.

Build civic pride in your children by supporting the Clean Up program. Give the youngsters chores, encourage their school projects. But, most important of all, set a good example. Let the children look up to you thanks to your Clean Up activities.

James P. Guzzu

With the passing of James P. Guzzu recently this community lost one of its most ardent, and persistent boosters and an individual who was always willing and anxious to join in any movement that would help Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County. It would have been the same desire no matter where this man lived. He was that type of individual.

He gave freely of his time and energies and his loss can never be regained. He was a man of dynamic personality and unusually strong convictions. When an idea appealed to him and he thought it was good for Virginia Beach he left no stone unturned to see the idea become a reality.

Mr. Guzzu had many friends, not only here, but throughout the country. He was a widely traveled man before settling down in Virginia Beach during the 1930's.

We mourn the passing of this fine gentleman and will remember him always in the year ahead.

FAIRYLAND OF FAITH

The Editor's Mail Box

Dear Sir:

During the Christmas-New Year holidays the Fraternal Order of Police is conducting a highway safety campaign in our community to help cut the number of traffic accidents.

Last year, a record 609 persons were killed in auto tragedies across the country during the three-day Christmas weekend; 345 during New Year's. Thousands more were injured. This year, four-day celebrations are in prospect for both holidays. With auto fatalities eight per cent ahead of last year, the toll undoubtedly will be much greater.

This grisly Yule tide of auto deaths must, and can be, turned back. One of the major causes of road disaster is driver fatigue, which is especially prevalent during the holidays. Lack of alertness behind the wheel, for even a split second, can bring disaster.

By following these simple points, motorists can help combat weariness, stay alive, and keep out of the obituaries:

1. Never drive when overtired, even if it's only home from a party.
2. Keep a car window open; fresh air helps you stay awake.
3. To top off a festive evening, make it coffee; on long drives, stop for a cup at regular intervals.
4. While driving, talk it up with other passengers in the car; if alone, turn on the radio.

6. If you are tempted to try the dangerous experiment of mixing alcohol and gasoline, get someone else to drive you home.

A timely reminder to your readers will help to make this a truly Merry Christmas and a Happy and SAFE New Year.

Sincerely, C. R. Bailey

It is our desire to express our very real and heartfelt appreciation for the unprecedented support which we have received from the City of Virginia Beach and the Roadside Nursery in our project, the beautification of 26th St. We feel that the spirit created and the interest generated by their communal project will be an inspiration to further efforts and accomplishments to make Virginia Beach a more beautiful and attractive city.

Wintry scenes such as this—pictured in their true colors—are just as effective in more colorful views.

Color Doesn't Have to Be Bright

Maybe we can blame it on the deep impression made on us by the traditional red and green Christmas decorations—or the bright red and green crayons we treasured in our kindergarten days—or the constant warnings we heard about watching the red and green traffic lights. But somehow too many of us have a preconceived notion about color film—a misguided idea that it should be used only when the scene is rich in tones of red or green.

Most of us think about color film when the fresh greens of spring first appear—when summer's brilliant sunshine lights up the dark green foliage—when autumn leaves blaze into their annual crimson glory. Not so, however, when November gives the nod to December—then we just let our cameras retreat into a world of black-and-white until spring rolls around again.

Personally, we've always regarded this a mistake. For there are remarkably beautiful color pictures to be made all through the bleaker months that lack the brilliant tones of other seasons.

Artists have known this for centuries. That's why so many of them have given their best efforts to capturing the many-browns and grays of leafless landscapes, ice-blue waters and silvery snow, blue-gray crags and rockbound coasts. And the world would have missed many a masterpiece had the artist's eye not seen the total beauty and harmony in these softer, more subtle colorations.

So, our advice to you is: don't drop your color film when the temperature starts dropping. Lead your camera and capture the "rich and cooler" palette that Nature provides at this time of year!

By FRANKLIN J. MEINE
Editor, the American Peoples
Encyclopedia

The flying team of Daedalus and Icarus never had a chance to reach the sun. Even though solar heat hadn't melted their wax wings, the high altitude would have resulted in the first space travel casualty. When flying, the effects of oxygen want are usually not felt below 8,000 feet. Up to 10,000 feet they usually are not serious. Flying above 10,000 feet, may give the flyer a false sense of well-being. Every act requires more effort above 14,000 feet, and vision and judgment are impaired. From 23,000 to 35,000 is considered the maximum to which man can ascend for brief periods without supplementary oxygen. However, some barrel-chested Chilean natives live at altitudes of 17,000 feet and work in mines at altitudes as high as 19,000 feet.

Thousands of people owe their lives to parachutes when they have been forced to abandon an aircraft. The correct packing of parachutes is so important that "riggers" are licensed by the Civil Aeronautics Authority. Parachutes must be inspected every 10 days and repacked every 60. Civil aircraft don't have to carry them, except when acrobatic flying is to be done. Occupants of military and naval aircraft must wear them. A man falling freely will reach a terminal velocity of about 118 miles per hour.

"MORVIDITY"

In his latest campaign, Joseph Schaefer, Chairman of the Portsmouth Safety Council, urges that the public no longer be spared the gruesome details of traffic tragedies. He feels ghastly crash pictures should be exhibited to bring out the realistic side of the picture. Coining a new word from "morbid" and "vivid," he calls this process "morvidity."

THE BAFFLES

By Mahoney

P. A. Annexation

no one can say. Whether the new units will be constructed near the city is doubtful.

"Some municipal growth is to be expected. We have weighed the comparative advantage of allowing more room for development against the disadvantage of incorporating large tracts of agricultural land with the municipality, and have concluded that the possibility of a further annexation made necessary by continued development is of less weight than the hardships incident to including several square miles of productive farm lands within the city."

In fixing the $3,049,935 price for annexation, the court ruled against the city on two of three points of the contention with the county over computation of costs. On the third point the court made its own compromise of the city and county positions.

On the first point, the city wanted to assume outstanding bonds for improvements in the area—such as Little Creek School—and have it apply to the county debt which the city must assume on a proportionate basis. The payment thus would have been deducted from the base of the payment to the county for loss of revenue due to annexation.

The court also ruled against a city contention that federal funds used for schools outside the 13.5 square mile area should be deducted from the total county indebtedness. Of the $3,600,000 in federal aid spent outside of the area, the city said, the county would never have received it had it not been for federally affected children who will come into the city.

To this the court said: "It is true that after annexation the county will have improvements which were designed to serve children in the annexed area, and to which the federal funds have been applied."

"It must be assumed, however, that if the funds had not been allotted, the improvements would have been constructed with funds raised by bond issues, and the city would now be required to assume a portion of such bonds."

On the third point, the county said that if Norfolk takes the 13.5 square miles, it will lose more than $2,000,000 in revenue over a five-year period. The city said the County would have to make no revenue adjustments for other areas as taxes from the 13.5 square miles now are not enough to cover the costs for the county to administer the area.

The court said that from evidence presented it estimated growth of the county will adjust any slack in revenue because of annexation. It said that at the end of the school year an adjustment of some $180,000 may exist and the city should pay $100,000 of this.

The court also said the city should specify in general language "what improvements and services it will give the area if annexation is culminated. When such is done, it then would be made part of a final decree."

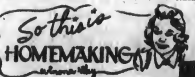

Are Things Really Better Now?

People have more money today than they did before World War II. But here are some sobering comparisons: A worker who earned $3,000 in 1939 needs $6,122 today to be as well off. The family with a $4,000 income in 1939 has to have $10,583 now. And 1939's $25,000-a-year man was doing just as well as today's executive who brings in around $68,000 a year. Taxes and inflation make the difference. No denying it, the dollar has really shrunk.

DRINKING DRIVERS

At the National Safety Congress in Chicago last month, the Committee on Tests for Intoxication showed a documentary film on driving tests performed on drivers with various alcoholic blood levels. At .12 and .13, the deterioration was so marked as to give much credence to the contention of some prominent medical authorities that .15 is too high a level to set as the maximum which a driver can attain and remain safe.

It takes nature from 500 to 1,000 years to make an inch of good topsoil, yet reckless plowing, overgrazing or uprooting of natural cover can destroy as much in a year.

My husband isn't exactly a loner, but he never has qualified as the world's most helpful spouse, either. That is, not until our new electronic range arrived.

Now you would think that Bill had always been the head chef at our house. Particularly when we have company, he usually has our guests out there, too, giving them a running commentary on how their dinner is progressing in the RCA Whirlpool electronic range.

"You won't believe this," Bill will say as he opens the range door, "but you can put your hand right in there. See? It isn't even hot, but the food is!"

And everybody has to touch the shelf, while I concentrate hard on the food so they won't stop laughing. Sometimes it isn't so funny, though, like the other night when we were having a roast. Bill opened the door so often that it took much more than the usual 30 minutes to cook. That was because the marvelous transmission of microwave energy automatically stops when the door is opened.

Bill never tires of telling people how "we can make a cake in three minutes" or about the steak "we cook and serve in 4 1/2 minutes right on our best china platter."

Well, I can't blame him for his enthusiasm. Now that I'm doing 90% of my cooking electronically, I only spend 30 or 30 minutes a day in the kitchen. According to the home economists at the Whirlpool-Seeger appliance center, that's par for the course!

Savings Banks to Commercial Banks Solution Says Roth

Commercial bankers in New York are getting pretty lathered up over the demands of mutual savings banks to establish more branches, through which they can siphon off, say the commercial bankers, more and more of the money that should be in commercial accounts. According to Arthur T. Roth, president of the Franklin National Bank, of Franklin Square, N. Y., the commercial banks of New York City alone have lost 13 billions in deposits erosion" by converting these mutual savings banks into commercial banks.

In this hassle, Mr. Roth is supported by the Bankers' Committee for Tax Equality, comprising thousands of banks. This is no mere matter of raked competition, but a battle against the income tax favoritism which the mutual savings banks and savings and loan associations enjoy at the expense of regular, full-scale banking institutions on which the community

Shoes Re-heeled in 3 Minutes By Automatic Heeling Machine

Recent installation of an automatic heeling machine called the "Comet-10 Model Auto-Soler" and the much heralded "core heels" now enable Herron's Shoe Repairing, 1520 Atlantic Avenue, Virginia Beach, Va., to perform a new service for their customers. Customers who visit this shop can now get their shoes re-heeled in 3 minutes and be on their way. Mr. Eugene G. Herron, manager, says that this new equipment gets heel jobs out so fast that other work in the shop is speeded up.

In attaching core heels, the new Comet-10 Model uses soft steel wire from a reel for making its own fasteners which are accurately and automatically cut to pre-selected length and imbedded deeply into the heel at a rapid speed, faster than the eye can follow. Fasteners are driven into the heel in such a manner that the pointed end loops, so as to prevent points from working upward into the shoe, sometimes a major reason for discomfort.

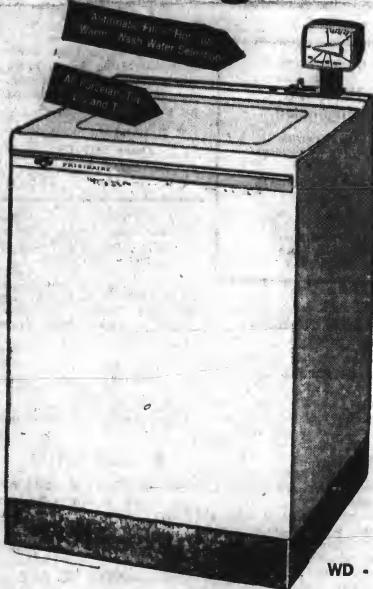

Among the advantages gained by use of these heels are a softer rubber for greater comfort, no holes to pick up dirt or mud, a tighter fit to the shoe, no danger of nail head inside the heel scratching floors when worn a little too long.

If you know of a better place in which to live, why not move out of Virginia Beach and settle down in peace?

FREEDOM MARTYR
 "I AM A LOVE OF ALTON, ILLINOIS, SAVE HIS LIFE. DEFENDING HIS RIGHT TO SPEAK AND TO PUBLISH HIS HATED OF SLAVERY."
 "Your rights before his martyr's death November 3, 1857, Lincoln said: 'If the civil authorities refuse to protect me, I must look to God; and if I die, I have determined to make my grave in Alton, I have sworn eternal opposition to slavery—I can die at my post, but I cannot desert it.'"
 —John Stuart Mill

"Between Heaven and Hell" Opens At The Virginia Beach Theatre

It sometimes takes the realities of war to snap a person out of a world he has created for himself. Just this type of a case now is dramatically presented on the screen of the Beach Theatre where Twentieth Century - Fox's CinemaScope De Luxe color production "Between Heaven and Hell" opened yesterday.

As a Southern landowner who has no use for his sharecroppers nor any people below him in class, R. Bert Wagner gives perhaps the most sensitive and powerful performance of his career. Much of the intriguing and highly interesting story is seen through his eyes. When he is called to active service at the outbreak of World War II, his wife, Jenny, played with charm and conviction by lovely Terry Moore, fears that an otherwise idle relationship is on the verge of breaking - up due to his feudal attitude toward other people.

Because he struck an officer under combat circumstances, Wagner is assigned to an outfit the Army has written off as a company of "Foul - ups." Here he begins to change his ways. One of the driving forces behind this change, although he himself is not aware of it, is the cowardly Army Captain, expertly portrayed by Broderick Crawford. The brawny actor has one of those meaty roles which his talents seem so often to command.

This gradual, yet effective, change in Wagner is perfectly conceived through the able direction of Richard Fleischer and the sensitive script by Harry Brown, who transferred the unusual story to the screen from

Francis Gwaltney's best - selling novel, "The Day the Century Ended."

Much credit for the outstanding screen attraction must also go to the supporting cast. Buddy Ebsen, as soft - spoken, unpretentious GI buddy of R. Bert Wagner who himself is a share - cropper, does much to bring Wagner out of his own little world. The clincher, however, is applied when Wagner sees how his fellow buddies react under pressure. They are played by Brad Dexter, Ken Clark, Skip Homier, Harvey Lembeck and Mark Damon. The Army had called them the "Bad Boy Battalion" but they made the world change their name to the "Hell-Fighters of the Pacific."

Many of the exciting war scenes in "Between Heaven and Hell" were filmed on location in Hawaii with some of the members of the cast taking part in amphibious landings staged by more than 700 U. S. Army and Navy troops stationed in the islands. These scenes add much to the size and scope of this excellent attraction.

In "Between Heaven and Hell," audiences everywhere will find not only a story of love and war, which indeed it is, but a probing character study reminiscent of such military screen attractions as "From Here to Eternity" and "The Caine Mutiny."

Susan Constant, Godspeed and Discovery Replicas to be Christened

Trumpets will sound and pikemen will parade before 2,000 guests as full-scale sailing replicas of the three ships that brought the first permanent English colonists to the New World are christened at a shipyard in West Norfolk, Va., here on Thursday, December 20.

The pageantry, in the authentic style of a seventeenth-century ceremony of this kind, will attend the christening of the Susan Constant II, of 100 tons; Godspeed II, of tons; and Discovery II, of 20 tons.

Mrs. Lewis W. Douglas, wife of the former ambassador to Great Britain; Lady Caccia, wife of the new British ambassador to the United States; and Mrs. Thoms B. Stanley, wife of Virginia's governing, will each christen a ship by spilling wine "to the four winds" on the forward deck.

John Hughes Curtis, president of Curtis - Dunn Marine Industries Inc., the shipyard in West Norfolk, will offer the silver wine-filled goblet to each sponsor, then, present each with the goblet she used as a memento. Curtis and his "page"—his grandson—will be dressed in seventeenth-century dress.

Trumpeters, pikemen, halberdiers and sailors manning the three ships will also don the early dress. The three ships are now on board at Jockside and are being fitted with spars and English - woven flaxen sails.

Sir Harold Caccia, the British ambassador, and Governor Stanley will attend the ceremony, which begins at 11 A.M. Due to lack of dockside space, the public will be invited to enter the shipyard at 3 P.M. Delegate Lewis A. McMurrin, Jr., of Newport News, chairman of the Virginia 350th Anniversary Commission, will preside.

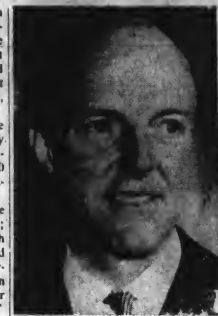

The ships were built for the 350th anniversary Jamestown Festival of 1957. They will be open for boarding and will be moored off Jamestown is the site of the first successful English colony.

West Norfolk is across the Elizabeth River from Norfolk, but is nearer Portsmouth. It can be reached by car down Mount Vernon Avenue off High Street (the main street) in Portsmouth. Motorists coming by way of Portsmouth will cross a bridge over the Western Branch into West Norfolk.

Motorists coming by way of Richmond, Newport News and the Peninsula may reach the shipyard by U.S. Route 26 to Churchland, a few miles left at Churchland from Route 17 takes the motorists directly into West Norfolk and avoids going into Portsmouth.

The christening ceremony will take place on the 350th anniversary of the sailing of the Jamestown colonists from Blackwall, near London, on December 20, 1606. They landed on the Virginia Capes April 26, 1607, and founded Jamestown on May 13, 1607.

The ceremony climaxes years of research and a year of intensive construction. The research was begun by the late Commander Griffith Baily Coale, of Stonington, Conn. It was supplemented by Alexander C. Brown, of Newport News, and others.

The Virginia 350th Anniversary Commission, which earmarked $200,000 for the construction, engaged Robert G. C. Fee, chief of the model laboratory at the Newport News shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, to draw the plans after further research of his own.

The ships are constructed almost entirely without metal fastenings of any kind. "Trunnels" (Tree-nails, or pegs) hold the planking together.

There are all - wooden blocks for the sheets and tackles and even wooden bilge pumps. The flaxen sails were imported from Somerset, in England.

Crews of the Norfolk, Portsmouth and Hampton yacht clubs will man the ships and will sail them on ceremonial occasions during the Jamestown Festival April 1 through November 30, 1957.

"Little Crusaders" Chosen

Suzanne Savedge and John Massey Brock, Jr., of Surry County were chosen as Virginia's "Little Crusaders of the 1956 Christmas Seal" in State finals held in Richmond, December 7, at 12 noon in the Women's Club. The State program climaxed a search by 23 local organizations, for children who looked most like the children depicted on the 1956 Christmas Seal. Judges who made the choice were: Former Governor John S. Battle of Charlottesville; Mrs. Beverly Byrd Berryville; Lewis A. McMurrin, Jr., of Newport News; Mrs. William S. Murray of Hollins, president Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs, and Judge Walter A. Page of Norfolk.

W. W. Wendt, executive secretary of the Virginia Tuberculosis Association, extended a welcome to the group, and announced that, "Exactly fifty years ago Dec. 7, the first Christmas Seal went on sale in America. We have gathered Dec. 7, to mark the progress of these fifty years."

Former Governor Battle, speaking directly to the children, recalled that in 1921 the people in Virginia were invited to send chickens to the old market in Richmond to be sold at auction for proceeds for the Christmas Seal Sale. "No lesser persons than Governor Westmoreland Davis of Virginia and Attorney - General Saunders stood on a packing box and auctioned the birds off to the highest bidders" Battle said. He presented the winning children keys to the cities of Williamsburg and Jamestown, as symbols of their passport to a happy 3 days in those towns.

Other children in Dec. 7's contest were: Joan Grayson Wood and Larry David Ison from Loudoun County; Deborah Ison and Jack Hall from Pittsylvania County; Ann Deale and Gary Lapidus from Norfolk Princess Anne County; Vickie Gurley and Jackie Brooks of Bristol, Tenn.-Va.; and Karen Clark and Tracy Ramey of Roanoke County.

Delayed Action Enlistments Offered by Army

Twenty-five qualified local young men may enlist for two years in the U. S. Army during December and have a reporting date for Active Duty delayed until April 1957, an Army spokesman said today.

This change in policy is the result of a recent change in law and further provides each enlistee the option of selecting and enlisting for the branch of the Army in which he will serve. Branches

The Adjutant General's Corps, Armor, Medical Service, Artillery, Chemical Corps, Engineers, Finance, Infantry, Military Police Corps, Ordnance, Quartermaster, Signal Corps and Transportation Corps.

The active duty required under this enlistment program is the same as the present draft, law and local men who have been ordered for preinduction examination by Selective Service Boards may still qualify for enlistment provided final induction notice has not been received.

During the 120 days delay in reporting under the new program enlistees are draft exempt and are not required to attend any military function.

All inquiries should be directed to the U. S. Army Recruiting Service in Norfolk, Portsmouth or Newport News.

Strange Facts

The least costly part of a home is the most important part—the roof, walls, doors, windows and floor, all built of wood, cost about ten per-cent of the total contract price. The frame of the home, seldom seen, may last for a century or more when built of such durable woods as Douglas fir or west coast hemlock, yet the costly plumbing, heating, ventilating and kitchen fixtures need replacing more than once during the lifetime of the average family.

Chief Moore Cautions Against Crime in Season

Princess Anne County Chief of Police, James E. Moore would like to call attention to everyone that this is the time of the year when thieves in all branches of crime reap their harvest. Special attention should be given while shopping as the shopper is busy concentrating upon their purchase. Don't by all means display a large amount of cash while making payment for your purchases. Don't lay your handbag on the counter while you are examining merchandise. Try if possible to keep it tucked under the arm. Don't feel that a locked car will protect those Christmas purchases that are fully exposed on the car seats. Lock your packages in the trunk of the car.

Be extra careful in crowds. If you feel a jolt from two directions simultaneously don't hesitate to check your purse or wallet immediately as the snatcher can get out of that crowd in less than a minute.

If it is at all possible, do your shopping in company with someone, especially at night and don't travel by foot on unlighted streets or roads.

Lock your car doors so that they can not be pulled open when it is necessary for you to come to a stop in a secluded area, and be extra careful about hitch-hikers.

Places of business are exceptionally vulnerable at this time of the year when inventories are at an all time high. Even though Special Police are assigned to watch business places it is impossible to be in more than one place at a time. The Shopkeeper and business man will use an ounce of caution if he increases his Burglary Insurance during this period of high inventory.

Deaths

Mrs. Elizabeth Rosenegk Grimmell, wife of the late William Grimmell, daughter of the late Alfred von Nickish Rosenegk and Anna Rosenegk died on Tuesday, Dec. 4th in Richmond. Mrs. Grimmell was a native and life-long resident of Richmond. Services were held at the Lutheran Evangelical Church in Richmond on Thursday, Dec. 6. She is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Louis E. Guy Sr. of Virginia Beach, Mrs. A. R. Lane and Mrs. Otto C. Brauer both of Richmond.

FORT STORY TELLINGS

A number of special visitors marked the opening of the second week of LOTIS 11 (Loudon's Old-Time Shore Opratick Number 11) at this Cape Henry post.

In the operation, men of the 5th Transportation Terminal Command B are moving cargo from ships anchored in Chesapeake Bay over the beach to supply dumps. Theoretically, this cargo is intended for an imaginary American army which is now fighting an aggressor in the western part of the state. The exercise is scheduled to conclude on December 15.

The Army's newest swimming truck — the Superduck — is receiving its final test during the operation, an on-the-job comparison with its predecessor, the DUKW. It has been undergoing trials at Fort Story since August 13.

Visiting on December 10 were 25 students from the Transportation School at Fort Eustis. These men, as part of the Stevedore Officers Course, will soon be in charge of just such operations as they are now witnessing. In addition to the American officers, the class also includes officers from Thailand, Korea, Iran and Iraq. Also visiting on the tenth was Brigadier General Robert C. Tripp, Assistant Chief of Transportation for Military Operations.

Major General Samuel Browning, deputy chief of transportation and Mr. Courtney Johnson from the office of the Secretary of the Army visited the post on the 11th.

BASKETBALL

The 155th Transportation Company, after a late start, is tied for top slot in its division of the Fort Story Intramural Basketball League. The 155th and the Barracudas of the 461st Amphibious Truck Company are tied with two wins apiece against no losses to lead the "National" side of the league. On the "American" side, Headquarters Company of the Fifth Terminal Command B and the 565th Transportation Company are tied with the same record.

BEAUTY AND BEAST...

The 558th Transportation Company is in third place for the "Nationals" and the 612th Transportation in the corresponding slot for the "American." At the end of the season, a play-off between the two leagues will decide the post champion to represent Fort Story in the Transportation Training Command play-offs at Fort Eustis.

The 461st is the TTC's defending championship team.

BOWLING

Headquarters Detachment of the 379th Transportation Battalion holds a 15 and one record with a percentage of 937 along with an equal record by the 558th Transportation Company to give a two-way tie for the top in the Fort Story company level bowling competition.

Headquarters Company of the 5th TFCB and the Navy's Harbor Entrance Control Battalion are in third and fourth places respectively as the competition enters its sixth week.

"Free Money" From Washington

"Free money" from Washington that "need not be spent very carefully" because it didn't cost anything will add more than five billion dollars to our federal tax bill this fiscal year. And communities that put up matching funds to get some of this "free money" may well go broke in the process.

Thus, before you put the heat on your congressman for a federal handout for this or that local project, we recommend that you read "The Biggest Con Game in Politics," in the December issue of Reader's Digest. In this article, Alfred E. Driscoll reports on "facts out of my own experience as Governor of New Jersey; facts reported by other governors at meetings of the National Governors Conference; facts from the testimony of experts before Congressional investigating committees; facts from the findings of a Presidential commission, of which I had the honor to be vice-chairman."

Among the endless examples of "saving at the spigot and wasting at the bung" is the case of the Kansas City airport, where four inches of sand had to be scraped off the field and four more inches of the same kind of sand bought, trucked in and spread before the Government would permit concrete to be laid.

And before the Government gets further into the school picture, it should be interesting to learn Mississippi $482 per pupil, the Office of Education gave California $1,420 per pupil, offered Mississippi $850 per pupil and "two weeks later jumped this to $1,040, then hiked the ante again". Pascagoula, Miss., former Governor Driscoll reports, now has a 12 classroom elementary school that cost $378,000. But it has "out-stone depopulations, flagstoned entrances; terraced floors, glazed - brick walls, black marble window sills". This is known in federals as an "emergency minimum facility".

"Free money" from Washington has demoralized the relief programs in the states to the point where "despite the greatest employment and prosperity in history and the stepped-up protection of old-age insurance, old-age relief rolls today are more than twice as big as at the depth of the Depression."

Federal grants in aid, says Driscoll, have become "the fastest-growing gimmick in politics". Why it has happened may be seen in the words of an official of Kansas City, the very city that was victimized by Government aid for its airport. "We've got to get along with Washington," said this public servant. "And if we don't grab this free money, somebody else will."

"Let us destroy this free-money myth," concludes the former governor of New Jersey, "before it destroys us."

Blue Cross Revision Announced

Norfolk, December 10, 1956 — A major change in the structure of Blue Cross national hospital prepayment activities has been announced by Robert T. Evans, Chicago, Chairman of the Blue Cross Commission of the American Hospital Association.

Revision of the Blue Cross Association, an Illinois corporation chartered in 1942 to coordinate national enrollment (sales) programs of Blue Cross, is the primary step in the change. Dr. Basil C. MacLean, New York City's Commissioner of Hospitals, has resigned his post to accept the presidency of the Blue Cross Association effective February 4, 1957.

"For a long time Blue Cross Plans throughout the nation have felt that greater attention needed to be placed on the nationwide employer. The new responsibilities of the Blue Cross Association provide an ideal answer to this need," Evans, who is also Vice President of the Association, said.

Before now, the Blue Cross Association was an instrument of the national Blue Cross movement with limited responsibilities. Health Service, Incorporated, a health insurance company wholly controlled by Blue Cross Plans was one of the first responsibilities of the Association after it was established. Health Service, Incorporated will continue to be a national underwriting vehicle for Blue Cross Plans under the new arrangement.

Evans went on to explain that the 86 Blue Cross Plans in North America have been federated thru the Blue Cross Commission, which has been responsible for national programs. "We feel now, however, that a unit solely responsible for the member-directed services of our business is essential," Evans explained.

Evans pointed out that the Blue Cross Commission would continue, as a part of the American Hospital Association, to serve as the national coordinating agency for the Blue Cross Plans of the United States and Canada. The Commission will retain activities which are concerned with management problems of Plans while the Association will deal primarily with sales and member-directed functions.

Dr. MacLean, one of the original founders of the Blue Cross movement nationally, brings to his new post a distinguished record of hospital administration, public health administration, and wide knowledge of health economics problems. Commenting on the appointment of Dr. MacLean, Mr. Evans said, "We are indeed fortunate that Dr. MacLean has accepted this new responsibility. This is a major step in improving the financing of hospital care by the public and we are sure his leadership and experience will add a great deal to Blue Cross prepayment programs in every part of the country."

Dr. MacLean has served on the Blue Cross Commission since 1945 and is presently a member of its Approval Committee which annually evaluates compliance of Blue Cross Plans with the Approval Program of the American Hospital Association.

Presently there are over 82 million persons enrolled in Blue Cross Plans. It is estimated that the Plans will pay over a billion dollars to hospitals during 1956 for care rendered these members.

Who Said Women Are Extravagant?

Wives more often than husbands are responsible for saving money. According to recent surveys, both husband and wife manage the savings in 49 percent of the families, the wife in 25 percent and the husband in 15 percent. In families whose income is above $10,000 a year, the husband is more likely to see that some money is put away. But in families in the $2,000 - $10,000 bracket, the wife plays the more active role in making sure something is saved.

New York harbor covers some 1,500 square miles. Sprawled across parts of two states, the port handles about half the nation's foreign trade in dollar value. Of the 4,000,000 persons gainfully employed in the New York - New Jersey area, one out of every eight makes his living directly or indirectly from port commerce.

Safety Tips For The Holidays

With Mother spending extra hours in the kitchen cooking up holiday specials and Dad prowling through cellar and attic in search of Christmas decorations, accidents seem bound to happen in the coming weeks.

Each year, falls and burns alone kill a tragedy instead of holiday cheer to thousands of American homes, and safety experts warn against common household hazards: shaky ladders, loose stair treads, frayed wires, and a whole variety of kitchen dangers that can cause serious burns.

With some 8,000 Americans dying every year of burns, first aid cabinets should be especially stocked to cope with this menace. When the burn is deep and widespread, of course, a doctor's care is essential. But when the burn is minor, self treatment is relatively easy, and can prevent future complications.

Doctors have discovered that the best remedy is that standby found in any first aid box or medicine chest—Vaseline petroleum jelly. Following the steps shown in the diagram below, the wise homemaker can promptly handle a minor accident, save needless pain, and keep the merriment going.

But most important, of course—be careful! Avoid burning—except for the Yule log!

CHIEF OF CHEMISTS

The thicker the skin, the more it appears to be something out of nature's playhouse, but it isn't. Reading it, as some people can, it is $C_{12}H_{19}NO_4$, or the B vitamin, thiamine molecule. It is a, so-called, fat-soluble vitamin.

The discovery of thiamine is a classic of scientific achievement and its most prevalent use, in the enrichment of bread, is in the class of a modern science miracle in the field of public health.

At the recent American Bakers' Association's Annual Convention in Chicago, a program was presented observing the 15th anniversary of the enrichment program and honoring the man who was most responsible for the bread enrichment.

The man was:

Dr. R. R. Williams, New York, the scientist who isolated and first synthesized the B vitamin and founder of the Williams-Waterman Fund for the Combat of Dietary Diseases.

Dr. Norman Hollitt, Director, Bureau of Nutrition, Department of Health, New York.

Dr. Thomas Parran, Dean, Graduate School of Public Health, University of Pittsburgh.

Dr. W. Henry Sebrell, Jr., President, Williams-Waterman Fund.

M. L. Wilson, Chevy Chase, Md., former Director of Extension, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Dr. Russell M. Wilder, Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn.

Bread enrichment became possible with Dr. Williams' thiamine discovery. From thiamine, scientists were able to produce other health-vital B vitamins, riboflavin and niacin, to be added to bread.

Nutritionists urged that the mineral iron be added. In 1941, the bakers nationally introduced enriched white bread.

Health officials and the American Medical Association advocated the use of the B vitamins and iron in white bread as a major step in eradicating the mass killer disease of diet deficiencies.

Dr. W. W. Bauer, Director of the Bureau of Health Education, A.M.A. at the bakers' convention hailed bread enrichment as a "dramatic change" in the nutritional status of the nation. He told how the federal government ordered enrichment of all white bread and rolls for the duration of World War II.

"Nutrition is no less important in time of peace than in time of war," Dr. Bauer concluded. "The continuance of enrichment is therefore, a strictly logical procedure."

"The Missing Link"

It has now been openly admitted by India's odd-ball Prime Minister Nehru that he comes to Washington on December 18th as a "link between peoples who do not have such links". Less obliquely, this means he will be an emissary of Red China's Chou En-lai, who is now visiting in New Delhi where he is being decked with flowers, honored by India's Parliament, Tibet's Dalai Lama - who is a living deity in his country - and the organized demonstrations of school children.

While Jawaharlal Nehru comes over here to visit President Eisenhower, Chou will be selling his "five principles" in Burma, Pakistan, Nepal and Afghanistan. This bill of goods, which India bought two years ago, pledges the signers to mutual respect for territory and sovereignty, non-aggression, non-interference in internal affairs, equality and mutual benefit, and of course, peaceful coexistence. Communist China, Chou is assuring all and sundry, will try not to commit the "error" of pushing the small nations around. He has also said he might give Chiang Kai-shek a real good job if he'd just turn over Formosa to the mother country and come back home, and he would even consider turning loose the 11 American prisoners that his ambassador and ours have been talking about in Geneva for more than a year. He did not mention the hundreds of American GIs captured in Korea, and who, if they have survived Red Chinese torture, abuse and privations, are still his prisoners.

On completion of this tour, Chou will dash back to New Delhi, where again, he will doubtless be showered with rose petals on December 29. Mr. Nehru will then be back to report on how President Eisenhower is feeling and the chances of Chou's threatening or horse-trading his way into the UN.

Today, the thought of Nehru visiting the White House is even less appetizing than when the expedition was first announced. But it should be possible for the President, with-at transgressing the rules of hospitality, to give the Indian runner an emphatic and unequivocal message for his murderous Red friend - in the form of a two - letter Anglo - Saxon word meaning "No!"

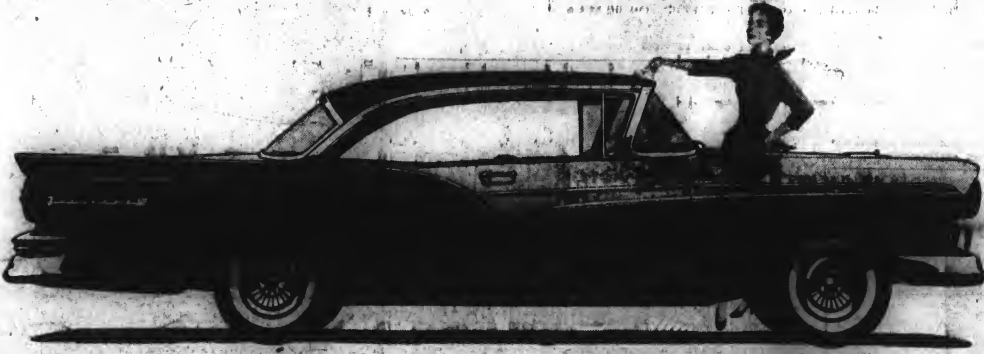

A Honey Of A Cookie

New "Honey Crunch Cookies", made with the favorite candy-coated puffed wheat, are an ideal Christmas treat. They're fun to make, easy to serve and especially good to eat.

Surely you'll want to keep your cookie jar filled throughout the holidays for family and friends who drop by to exchange greetings at tea time. Too, you'll want to package some of these crunchy cookies in fancy wrappings for the young 'uns... they make a perfect extra "little" gift.

- Honey Crunch Cookies
- | | |
|--|-----------------------------------|
| 1 1/2 cups sifted flour | 1/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar |
| 1/2 teaspoon double-acting baking powder | 1/2 cup honey |
| 1/2 teaspoon salt | 1 egg |
| 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon | 1 cup Sugar Crisp puffed wheat |
| 1/2 cup shortening | 1/4 cup seedless raisins |
- Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and cinnamon and sift again. Cream shortening; add sugar and honey and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg and beat well. Then add flour and mix thoroughly. Fold in cereal and raisins. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto greased baking sheet about 2 inches apart. Decorate with candied cherries and nuts, if desired. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 10 to 12 minutes, or until done. Makes about 2 1/2 dozen cookies.
- *Or use 1/2 cup chopped nuts.

The exciting Ford Fairlane 500 Club Victoria (above)—over 17 feet long—is one of two now, bigger Ford sizes this year.

If you think it looks new... wait till you drive it!

- ...For there's where Ford's newness really pays off
- ...in melting mountains...in smoothing the bumps
- ...in straightening the curves

You can see that Ford's longer, lower Sculptured Look makes other cars look downright old-fashioned. But the part you can't see—the new "Inner Ford"—is what shows its stuff when you drive a Ford. It's revolutionary from the wheels up! And it feels it.

Ford's wider frame lets you sit sweet and low. It lets Ford hug the roads because of its lower center of gravity. And Ford's new front suspension, rear springs and new easy handling are part of the scheme to make you think every road is cloud-smooth.

The magic touch of the new Ford power plants makes mountains disappear. What looks like uphill feels like downhill. You get this surging power in a wide choice of new Silver Anniversary V-8 engines. Or you can choose Ford's new, more economical Mileage Maker Six, the most powerful Six ever offered in the low-price field.

There's magic in Ford's price tag, too! You won't believe this big new Ford is still priced Ford-low. But it is. Come in and test the magic of the new kind of Ford. It's a real "Wizard of Allah-ha!"

Boy Scout 4th National Jamboree To Be Held at Historic Valley Forge

Boy Scout officials report excellent progress in preparing the site at historic Valley Forge, Pennsylvania for the Fourth National Jamboree to be held next July 12 to 18.

A 1,500-acre tent city will house more than 50,000 Boy Scouts, Explorers, and leaders from all parts of the nation and some from other lands. It will have its own water, electricity and telephone exchange, post offices, and other services for the largest gathering of boys in the western hemisphere.

About one hundred special trains and hundreds of buses will transport Scouts to the Jamboree. Railroads are giving Jamboree participants special railroad rates and assistance in planning routes so that Scouts may visit leading cities and scenic spots before and after the Jamboree.

Continents will arrive during the three days before the Jamboree's opening date, July 12. Three days will be needed to speed the Scouts home after the Jamboree closes, the evening of July 18.

The Jamboree campers will be at least twelve years old, holding Second Class rank or higher. The Jamboree is a self-sustaining enterprise made possible by the fifty dollar Jamboree fee paid by each participant.

DOUBLE MEDICAL CHECK
National, state, and local health and protective agencies are cooperating to give the Jamboree a health and safety record better than the average city of 50,000 population. Doctors from home areas will travel and live with the contingents. Each Jamboree Scout and Explorer is checked by a physician at home and again upon his arrival at the Jamboree.

Already completed is a stage 300 feet wide and 100 feet deep in front of a natural amphitheatre that will hold about 55,000 Jamboree campers and guests. Spectacular programs are planned for the opening evening, July 12, and the farewell program on the evening of July 18. Outstanding Americans will participate in both programs. There will be other Scout shows in sectional areas. Campfires and daytime demonstrations will give each Scout a chance to show his stuff or be entertained and instructed by the other fellows' skills.

Each night, radio-controlled trucks will deliver fresh dairy products, meat, fruit and vegetables to commissary refrigerators. It will be high-quality food, bought by the carload, to fit well-balanced menus.

Troops will set their food and cooking supplies before each meal at sectional commissary tents. Jamboree campers will cook their own meals and share the daily camp chores. Each patrol or crew member will share such tasks as fire builder, cook, and "cleaner-upper." Thanks to the use of over one million paper plates there won't be a dishwashing problem.

The Jamboree camp inhabitant will have plenty of time to pick up camping techniques through intercamp visits, displays, campfires and demonstrations. There will be excursions to historic shrines in and near Philadelphia.

Sunday, July 14 will bring one of the most impressive thrills to the Jamboree. In several religious services, each conducted in designated areas simultaneously, the more than 50,000 boys and leaders will worship according to their own faiths, all united in the freedom of their right to worship God.

The sprawling tent city will be governed by the Scout Oath and Law and administered by teams of national, sectional, and troop Scout leaders. Scoutmasters and their assistants are being carefully selected locally for the responsibility and honor of Jamboree troop leadership.

For many of the 50,000 participants it will be a "once in a lifetime" experience seeing America and camping with others from all parts of the nation.

Joy Fund Contributions Help Brighten Christmas Season

The Christmas Joy Fund, thru the generosity of the public endeavors to bring a little Christmas happiness to all needy persons in Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County. However, it is mainly for the very young and the very old.

Youngsters, who hear others chattering excitedly of Christmas and what Santa Claus is going to bring them, naturally are hoping for a visit from Santa, too. But in many instances, Santa will pass them by, unless he is given a helping hand from the "Joy Fund."

A bleak, empty Christmas not only means disappointment for the children, but heartbreak for the parents who have absolutely nothing for any Yuletide extras. When the JOY FUND steps in, it means the difference between a forlorn day and a Happy Christmas. Small gifts, warm clothes, shoes and a good Christmas Dinner, besides meaning a joyful day, will leave the child with the memory that someone cares for him.

Many old people who will have few more Christmases to remember also yearn for a little Christmas cheer. They look forward to something different on Christmas from their ordinary drab, destitute lives. Many are sick or ailing and have nothing at all with which to afford even the tiniest luxury. A gift from the Joy Fund will be the bright spot to many a forgotten old person.

Contributions may be brought or sent to either of the two weekly newspapers or mailed to the JOY FUND, BOX 274, VA. BEACH.

Did you get started on your cooky baking? Hope you had fun and have the cooky jars almost filled. Salads are always an exciting addition to your dinners and for luncheons - supper parties and after the game parties and many occasions a delicious salad pleases everyone.

Someone has said a salad is only as good as its dressing. No matter how crisp the greens, how fresh the fruit, how tender the meat, a salad with a non-descript dressing is seldom a success.

A satisfying dressing, like the Salad itself, however can be simple. To many, the ultimate in Salads is crisp, chilled greens tossed lightly but in a dressing of one part fine, mellow vinegar, three parts oil, a sprinkling of salt & a dash of freshly ground pepper. Nothing could be less complicated - nor more refreshing.

Before you begin your salad dressing adventure - a word from the Heinz Home Economics Test Kitchens. The success of dressing depends most often upon the quality of vinegar used. When you select a vinegar, you want one that is mellow rather than sharp. But you also want it to be full-bodied so that you'll need to use less to get more flavorful results - Staba - sized acidity as guaranteed on the label - is your assurance of uniform strength. Which flavor of vinegar you choose for your salad dressing is a matter of personal preference - but here is a quick glossary of the Vinegars Heinz has for you.

Cider vinegar is made from the first pressing of sound - red - ripe apples. It has a fine, mellow fruit flavor that's a natural with fruit & vegetable salads. It's as clear & sparkling as a topaz.

Distilled white vinegar is crystal clear made from choice corn cobs and barely malt. Heinz distilled white safeguards the original color of fruits, vegetables, etc. It has a delicate aroma which brings out all the flavor of foods without dominating them. The newcomer to Heinz Vinegars, is salad vinegar, it is a blend of distilled white - rebarber (sugar cane heads) & malt vinegars. Just enough of the malt vinegar shines through to give it a pleasing bouquet. Lower in price than most vinegars, it still offers a wealth of fine flavor.

Malt - is the ultimate of fine Vinegars. Its rich, full-bodied flavor is excellent for hearty salads of meat, seafood, macaroni - or baked beans. Malt vinegar is the finest vinegar of its kind produced in the world to-day. It contains a high percentage of malt - and it is patiently acidified & aged so as to bring out the aroma & pungency of the original malt. It should be used discriminatingly so as not to overpower the flavor of the salad.

Now - the epicure's delight is Tarragon Vinegar. In a skillful blend of fine distilled & fermented table vinegars, Tarragon leaves are steeped until their delicate aromatic oils have been absorbed by every winey drop. Its herb fragrance is perfect for salad greens, meat eggs & fish. Used in a sour cream dressing, it is wonderful for fruit salads, too.

I'll just give you a basic french dressing recipe that Heinz suggests - & you can make any variation you like.

1/4 cup Vinegar
1/4 cup salad oil
1/4 teaspoon paprika
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon sugar
Combine ingredients - shake vigorously - Chill - Shake before serving.

Some Variations are:
Catsup Onion Dressing - To 1 1/2 cups Basic French Dressing - add 1/2 cup minced onion, 1/2 cup Tomato Catsup and 2 tablespoons Worcestershire Sauce - Beat until well blended.

Chiffonade Dressing - To 3/4 cup Basic French Dressing, add 2 tablespoons minced parsley, 3 teaspoons minced onion, 1/4 cup finely chopped cooked beets and 1 hard - cooked egg, chopped.

Club French Dressing - To 1 cup Basic French Dressing, add 3 tablespoons minced onion, 1 tablespoon sugar & 1 tablespoon Worcestershire Sauce.

Cream Tomato French Dressing - Blend 1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese, softened, with 1 tablespoon milk, gradually add 1/2 cup Basic French Dressing and 3 tablespoons tomato catsup.

Some people like a Cooked Salad Dressing and it can also be varied - by adding various ingredients.

Cooked Salad Dressing
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1 1/2 tablespoons flour
1 egg
1/4 cup milk
1/4 cup vinegar
1 tablespoon Butter

Combine first 6 ingredients in top of double boiler - blend thoroughly after each addition stir in vinegar gradually Cook over hot water - stirring constantly until thick - 10-15 minutes. Remove from heat, add butter blend thoroughly & cool - Refrigerate in closed container until ready to use.

For a perfect dressing for fruit salad - made Whipped Cream Dressing - To the above recipe fold in 1/2 cup heavy cream - whipped.

There are many, many variations using mayonnaise as a base - so whether you make your mayonnaise or buy it - be very versatile & make tempting dressings that go perfectly with the salad you are serving.

Some variations - you can make - just by adding - one or two maybe three ingredients - are Thousand Island - Combine-2 cups

Christmas For Your Bird

ROCHESTER, N. Y. - Do you have a parakeet in your Christmas plans?

This suggestion to owners of America's nine million parakeets comes from Basil Calver, executive director of French's Pet Bird Store.

Here are his holiday pointers for parakeet-owning families:

1. If your bird has the run of the household, keep an eye on him while holiday decorations are set. Parakeets love shiny objects. Christmas tree decorations will be a great temptation and your ornaments may end up on the floor. Your birdie may make a holiday meal of tinsel, and metal foil is not a recommended additive for any diet. Better watch out for lighted Christmas candles, too, and don't let your bird climb around on electric light wires.

2. On the other hand, your parakeet can have lots of fun with Christmas if you hang a shiny non-breakable ball in its cage. Or give it a Christmas stocking, full of little toys or seed balls and spray millet. Decorate its cage with evergreens. The bird will love them, and the greens-trimmed cage will be an attractive addition to your holiday decor.

3. If you are going away for the holidays, remember to provide adequately for your pet, or take it along, carefully protected from the cold, to join the fun, if you have time, teach your bird to say "Merry Christmas" as a surprise to relatives and friends.

4. You may want to borrow some of your bird's tinkly bells to add to your own doorway, mantelpiece, or table decorations.

5. Add a parakeet to your own Christmas shopping list. Colorful, amusing and friendly little creatures, parakeets make wonderful pets for youngsters and oldsters alike. Birds are particularly appropriate for pet-loving apartment dwellers who may not be able to keep larger animals.

mayonnaise - 1/4 cup Chili Sauce - 3 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper & 2 tablespoons stuffed olives - Blend & Chill.

Creamy Roquefort - Gradually add 3 tablespoons to 5 ounces Roquefort cheese spread - often - stir in 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 2 tea-poons sugar, 1/4 teaspoon paprika & 1/2 teaspoon salt. Blend - Chill - Blend Cheese Dressing - Combine 1/4 cup mayonnaise - 1/4 cup crumbled Bleu Cheese & 3 tablespoons Tomato Catsup or Chili sauce.

Honey Cream Dressing - excellent for fresh fruit salad - Combine 1/2 cup Mayonnaise - 2 tablespoons honey; fold in 1 cup heavy cream, whipped - Chill.

There are many other variations and I'm sure you'll find just the right one for your favorite salad.

A colorful salad for the Christmas season is Chicken - Cranberry Party - Salad - If you're planning a luncheon - try it.

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
2 cans (2 1/2 cups) condensed cream of chicken soup
1/4 cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon minced parsley
Soften gelatin in cold water -

Heat 1/4 cup soup, add gelatin & thoroughly dissolve. Stir Dissolved gelatin in remaining soup - cool.

Fold in mayonnaise & parsley. Pour salad into a mold that has been rinsed with cold water - chill until firm.

For the cranberry layer - Crush 1 - pound can jellied cranberry sauce - soften 1 envelope unflavored gelatin in 1/4 cup cold water - set over a pan of hot water & stir until dissolved - Mix with cranberry sauce - pour over top of firm chicken layer - continue to chill until cranberry layer is firm - Unmold - Serve on greens.

Here's another pretty & tasty salad for Christmas time.

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
1 can condensed tomato soup
1 teaspoon grated onion

FORT STORY TELLINGS

OUTSTANDING SOLDIER

An assignment to Fort Story is more than just a duty station for Private First Class Zinas M. Navodones, who has been selected as Soldier of the Month at Fort Story, because of the Cape Henry post, location near Virginia Beach, Navodones has a chance to pick up some pointers for one of his civilian occupations: resort hotel manager.

A graduate of the University of Maine and the Boston University Graduate School, Navodones majored in economics and teaches the social sciences in secondary schools during the winter months. Each summer, he manages the Willows Hotel at Proulx Neck, Maine. The Maine town, he says, is similar in many ways to the resort town of Virginia Beach and he has been able to observe hotel methods used here to pick up some tips for his return to civilian life.

The 26-year-old soldier from Portland, Maine, is a records clerk with Headquarters Detachment of the Tenth Transportation Battalion at Fort Story.

A policy just originated at Fort Story provides for the Soldier-of-the-Month to accompany the reviewing party at garrison parades and, at the parade held Friday afternoon (November 30), Navodones became the first such soldier to receive this honor.

DUKW DRIVERS

A new class of 66 men has just begun instruction with the 461st Amphibious Truck Company here. The men will be taught to operate the amphibious DUKW's which give Fort Story its nickname as "the home of the trucks that swim."

The men of the 461st, who call themselves "The Baaracudas," operate the DUKW school. Fort Story provides all the Army's amphibious truck training.

A class of 42 men has also just graduated, according to Sergeant First Class Alfred M. Herron of the school.

VISITORS

Officers from Thailand and Viet Officers from Thailand and Viet post recently.

Colonel Pranit Cherosiri of Thailand underwent on-the-job training here November 19-23. Particularly observing amphibious operations, he visited the various units on the post including the gigantic BARC's and Landing Craft Retrieval and observed the actual operations of the post. On Thanksgiving Day, he ate the traditional turkey dinner in the mess hall of Headquarters Company, Fifth Terminal Command B, along with Colonel George E. Woods, Jr., post commanding officer.

Another officer from Thailand, Colonel Sirirat Vattseer, was provided with similar training, November 26-30.

Lieutenant Colonel Tran Van Xoi, Chief of Transportation for Viet Nam, toured Fort Story on November 28. He and his party viewed amphibious operations, the landing now under construction, the operations of the DUKW drivers school, and a maintenance shop. Accompanying him were Captains Nguyen Van Long, chief of operations; Chan Minh Thon, commander of the drivers and mechanics school; and Nguyen Van Hiers, chief of operations.

FIRST BOATS

Boats are first recorded as having come to the shores of Cape Henry in 1607 when the first settlers landed here. And, although the post boasts three and a half miles of beach and has long been known as "the home of the trucks that swim," Fort Story has never had a boat unit to be permanently assigned there until this week.

The 66th Heavy Boat Company, equipped with eighteen LCM's (Landing Craft Mechanized), has moved onto the post and been assigned to the 14th Transportation Battalion. The company will also utilize the mammoth Landing Craft Retrieval, which can pick a landing craft out of the surf for refueling or repairs.

Commanded by Second Lieutenant John J. Gordina, the unit is formerly a part of the 150th Boat Battalion of Fort Eustis. Second Lieutenant Frederick G. Emerson is executive officer.

The company will be used to support the over-the-shore operations of Fort Story's amphibious and terminal service units.

TI & E AWARD

The Tenth Transportation Battalion has been awarded the plaque for the quarter's outstanding Troop Information and Education Program, according to First Lieutenant Melvin I. Feldman, post information and education officer.

The award is based on inspections conducted throughout the quarter and is rotated among the units of the post. The information and education program keeps Fort Story's soldiers informed on topics of current interest and provides them an opportunity to continue their education while in the service through classes conducted on post, arrangements with area schools and correspondence courses.

The Tenth Battalion TIE program is conducted by First Lieutenant Stanley G. Cold and Private First Class Thomas L. O'Brien.

LOTS

An American army is fighting an invader in western Virginia. Not actually, of course, but as far as men of the 5th Terminal Command B are concerned, this imaginary army needs supplies. Therefore they are moving a wide variety of "dummy" cargo for their part of Logistical Over - The - Shore Operation Number 11 which is now in progress at Fort Story.

For the past two weeks, Fort Story's units, in conjunction with a similar exercise at Fort Eustis, have been moving cargo to and from ships anchored offshore, in an over - the - beach training exercise which is being carried on around the clock.

Major General Rush B. Lincoln, Jr., commanding general of the Transportation Training Command, inspected the operations recently.

LOTS Eleven will continue through December 15.

SUPERDUCK

Along with the LOTS operation, the test team for the Army's newest "swimming truck" - the Superduck - have started putting the vehicle through its final trials. It has been undergoing tests here since August 13.

Superduck is working alongside her predecessor, the DUKW in the LOTS exercise as an on - the - job comparison test, according to Major Herman Nadler, Superduck project officer.

The Superduck is a larger vehicle which has been redesigned from the DUKW, the 2 1/2 ton amphibious truck which came into use by the Army in World War II.

The DUKW's are the principal vehicles - which have earned for Fort Story the nickname of "the home of the trucks that swim."

WIVES CLUB

Mrs. Herbert K. West has been installed as president of the Fort Story Officers Wives Club in a recent meeting at the Officers Club.

Mrs. B. W. Williams was installed as vice-president. Mrs. John Cunningham as secretary and Mrs. E. A. P. McCarthy as treasurer.

The organization's latest activity was the sponsoring of a Christmas dance at the Officers Club on December 8.

OPEN HOUSE

The officers and men of Delta Battery of the 38th Anti - Aircraft Artillery Missile Battalion have invited Fort Story personnel and residents of surrounding communities to a series of open houses at their site on Atlantic Avenue at Fort Story.

The unit will hold open houses each Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m.

LIGHT HOUSE

The old Cape Henry Lighthouse is undergoing a small face-lifting job. It is located on the Fort Story reservation.

Workmen have been replacing some of the stones around the top of the tower and repairing the extreme top where the light was once housed. The metal top of the lighthouse was blown off by Hurricane Barbara in 1953.

Current plans call for another top to be put on the lighthouse and other jobs performed to help beautify the structure and prolong its life.

The old Cape Henry lighthouse is the first such structure to be built by the United States government. It was constructed in 1791.

ONE OF THE FAITHFUL ?

Joe and I were passing the record shop the Saturday before Christmas. An amplifier was blaring, "O Come, All Ye Faithful."

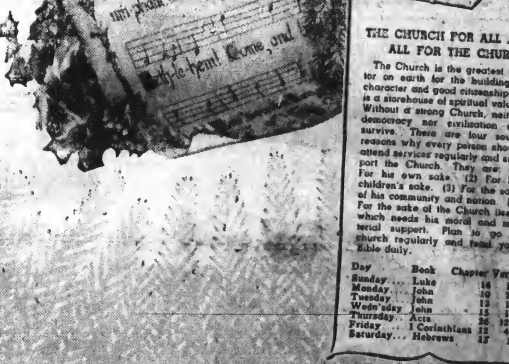

"That leaves me out," said Joe, cynically. "I'm not one of the faithful, so I'm not supposed to come."

Now, I'm a Christian; and I can't let a remark like that go unanswered.

Ever stop to think, Joe, that the faithful are not only the folks who have been faithful, but also the folks who are going to become faithful... like you, Joe?

To make a long story short, Joe went with me to Church the next day. And we both heard the Pastor say that the purpose of Christmas is to reveal God's love to a world that does not understand...

Nowadays, when I see Joe singing in the choir, I remember the record shop and Adele's Fidelity—God's call to worship for the faithful of yesterday, today and TOMORROW!

Route 68 & 164 Designations Being Changed

Changes in route designations for US Route 58 and Route 164 (Larkin Road) in the Virginia Beach area were announced today by the State Highway Department.

A Department spokesman said signs will be erected within the next few days designating present US 58 from the intersection of Route 164 to US 60 at Virginia Beach as "US 58 — Business." Present State Route 164 will be renumbered US Route 58.

The renumbering was approved recently by the Executive Committee of the American Association of State Highway Officials which must pass on proposed changes in the numbering of US — designated routes.

Reconstruction of Route 164 in Princess Anne County from the intersection of US 58 to Virginia Beach was recently completed, making the route a four-lane divided, controlled — access highway.

News for and About Local Servicemen

Chronically ill and aged veterans, hospitalized 10 to 20 years, are being rehabilitated and discharged from Veterans Administration hospitals under an advanced concept of long-term patient care established by VA.

Dr. I. J. Cohen, hospitals and clinics director in VA Central Office at Washington, D. C., said that since the new program was put into operation about a year ago 1,189 of the initial group of 4,283 chronic hospital patients have been discharged.

"A concerted effort is made to rehabilitate these chronically ill veterans sufficiently for them to be returned to their homes, to a foster home, or to other appropriate community facilities," Dr. Cohen said.

"Those for whom this is not possible continue to receive the care and treatment needed in as nearly a home-like atmosphere as it is possible to have in a hospital."

The program for long-term patients is aimed at providing for their needs after doctors have done all that is possible to cure their diseases, Dr. Cohen explained.

Continuing medical care is part of the program, but emphasis is placed on preparing patients for return to their home communities or for living with as much independence as possible within the hospital, so that deterioration may be prevented or retarded, he said.

Dr. Cohen said if patients with heart and blood vessel disorders, diseases of the digestive system, arthritis and other chronic conditions are allowed to live in hospital beds year after year with only routine care, the resultant deterioration is likely to become irreversible.

"The VA program," he added, "is an all out effort by every branch of the hospital staff to rehabilitate long-term patients so they may achieve the best possible physical condition and maximum self-help, and to provide them with recreational, spiritual and social activities so as to prevent mental regression and social isolation."

There is good news for veterans in school under the Korean GI Bill in this week's announcement by the VA, which will enable most students to pay their bills and go home for Christmas with a little money in their pockets.

Usually the schooling allowance checks for any one month are mailed out so as to arrive on the 30th of the following month. A check of the calendars of Virginia's Wives and children of uniformed servicemen living in the Norfolk - Portsmouth - Virginia Beach area may use civilian hospitals at government expense beginning December 1, 1956, under a program to be administered by Tidewater Hospital Service Association, Danwood N. Kelly, Executive Director, announced here today.

Kelly stated that the Blue Cross Commission, national coordinating agency for Blue Cross Plans, had recently signed a contract with the Department of Defense, activating Public Law 569, known as the "Dependent Medical Care Program," which was passed by the 84th Congress. It was pointed out by Kelly that the Commission had signed the contract on behalf of the various Blue Cross plans who will handle the program, and that the Tidewater Hospital Service Association had signed a subcontract with the Commission to administer the program in this area.

The new law becomes effective December 7, 1956 and allows dependents care in civilian hospitals at government expense. In the past, the Federal Government has provided medical care in military facilities when available. Wives and children of servicemen on active duty with the Army, Navy, Marines, Air Force, Coast Guard, and the Commissioned Corps of the Public Health Service and of the Coast and Geodetic Survey will be eligible for benefits under the program.

It was indicated that the Government had requested this new program in order to save the cost of expanding military hospitals to care for these dependents; to help prevent a shortage of military doctors that might develop when the Doctor Draft ends in July, 1957; and to make military service more inviting to young men by assuring them that their wives and children will have proper hospital and medical care if required.

The Jay C's will take approximately ten children from the Welfare Department down town Christmas shopping. The children will each be given several dollars to spend and they must buy a Christmas present for someone else. The idea is to instill in them the thought of giving to someone else and not just receiving. At the conclusion of the Shopping Tour the children will be entertained by the Jay C's at a Christmas party at which time they will each be given a gift. Bobby Hunter, Welfare Chairman is in charge of this project.

The Jay C's will hold a Turkey Shoot, Sunday, December 16th from 9:00 A. M. until dark. The proceeds will be used for this Christmas tour and well as for the Scholarship Fund, which the club sponsors each year. Bobby Watlington is chairman of the Turkey Shoot. He will be assisted by Jack Hoots. The club is also selling Benson's Homemade Fruit Cakes this year.

Rules of the Sanitary Code have been amended to allow dogs to run at large 21 days after rabies vaccination with a new live-virus serum. The previous period was 30 days.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Just Call Me Cupid

The counter down at Pete's was full yesterday, except for three seats near the end, so I pushed myself down on the middle one. As I took my first sip of coffee a cute young couple came in—a girl in her early twenties followed by a fellow perhaps a year or two older. Without saying a word, they took the only two seats left on either side of me.

Remembering my younger days, I insisted the young man take my seat so they could be together. He hesitated at first, then finally he shrugged, grinned and said to the girl, "Well, let's make him happy. My name's 'Ricky'. What's yours?"

From where I sit, there was no harm done that time, but jumping to conclusions can be embarrassing. In fact, it's sometimes mean and intolerant—like the way some folks jump to the conclusion a man's "wrong" to prefer a glass of beer over another beverage. Lack of facts coupled with lack of judgment introduces trouble.

You don't have to be a PENNY PINCHER

Getting ahead financially is not a matter of "pinching pennies." Quite to the contrary! Actually you can spend money more happily (because free from worries and misgivings) once you have embarked on a program of systematic saving.

First step is to establish the amount that you reasonably can and most certainly will save each payday. Then see to it that these dollars go promptly into your savings account every week . . . before they have a chance to go elsewhere. You'll have more fun spending what's left . . . when you do your savings FIRST!

ALL THE OTHERS SIMPLY PROVE...

The '57 Pontiac is America's Number 1 Road Car!

Months ago, Pontiac set its '57 sights on producing an engineering classic—the greatest road car in automotive history! How well did they succeed? One answer is pictured here, the all-new '57 Pontiac itself, a car so advanced in concept that other new cars merely emphasize its outstanding design, its brilliant array of first-time features! The other answer is the public's response to this road-ruling beauty. From every quarter of the nation has come wave after wave of confirming praise. Praise for Pontiac's styling—its crisp, colorful lines and flowing contours that accent beauty built in, not hung on! Praise for new Level-Line Ride—the advanced suspension system that cradles you in cloud-soft comfort. Praise for Pontiac's ease of handling! Praise for the brisk and eager response of its all-new Strato-Streak V-8 engine! And underlying this tremendous voice of approval is the confidence felt in a car which has undergone the greatest road test in history . . . Pontiac's grueling 100,000-Mile Marathon Run! Yes, this year it's Pontiac all the way! Come in and see it! Come take the wheel of America's No. 1 Road Car!

Board of Supervisors Has Double Business Meeting

The Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors Monday doubled up on two meetings normally scheduled for a month but still was able to complete all its business shortly after noon.

The board received the building inspector's report showing that construction in the county topped that of last year by about $300,000 with 15 days yet to go on this year's total.

With 3,489 permits for 1956 to date, construction costs were $24,690,387. Of this amount, $18,661,474 was for residences.

Last year the total for all construction was estimated at $24,396,840 on 3,311 permits. Of those, 2,968 permits were granted for an estimated $22,005,360 of residential construction.

In other action the supervisors: Went on record as asking for the reactivation of Camp Pendleton, south of Virginia Beach, for use by National Guard units of Virginia.

Instructed the Commonwealth's attorney to complete a contract for condemnation of county ordinances, which will cost an estimated $6,200.

Referred to the Commonwealth's attorney a study of an approved ordinance that would exempt county policemen $5 daily for expenses for income-tax purposes.

Took under advisement a resolution asking the Air Force to relocate in the county an air field proposed for moving from the Washington area.

Agreed to install four street lights at the Youth Recreational Center at East Ocean View and took under advisement a request to install drainage pipe in the area.

WE RECOMMEND

At this Christmas Season there are many sights to see in and around Virginia Beach and in Princess Anne County.

We especially recommend the Christmas decorations at Cafers, on Atlantic avenue, and the nativity scene at Mutual Federal Savings and Loan Association on Pacific Ave.

For beautiful Christmas trees a drive by the F. S. Royster home in Cavalier Park should be a must for everyone, and the tree at Rose Hall on Virginia Beach Boulevard is a sight to behold in the evenings.

Drive Safely This Yule

Don't be "tired-to-death" this holiday season, Virginia Beach drivers were warned today.

"Fatigued-fatigue" is a big killer in the annual Yule tide of traffic deaths. C. R. Bailey, president of the local Fraternal Order of Police, said, "The holidays with the stepped-up pace of social events, Christmas shopping and other activities are unusually strenuous for most people. Fatigue is no respecter of persons, and many a driver, whose reflexes are slowed, can turn the holidays into tragic days for himself, his family and the innocent people in the other car," he added.

The FOP, which is backing the attack with its annual year-end highway safety campaign, offers three C's to keep motorists alert and to save lives:

1. Caution when driving.
 2. Coffee to keep alert.
 3. Common sense not to drive at all if overtired.
- "Let's make this a really Merry Christmas and a safe New Year by keeping the three C's in mind and keeping out of the obituary," St. Bailey said.

Good Will Toward Drivers

On earth Peace, good will toward fellow drivers! Extra patience and courtesy on the highways will help to save many lives, says the Institute for Safer Living. Christmas is always an exciting time, starting with the big shopping rush and ending with a busy round of homecomings, parties and social events. Nowhere is this excitement felt more than among motorists in congested traffic lanes. When driving, be calm, be patient, be courteous. Let the true spirit of Christmas prevail.

Seahawks Rout Elizabeth City

Able to score consistently from the field, Virginia Beach had little trouble Tuesday night whipping Elizabeth City, N. C., 72-49.

Harold James and Bob Gormley were the offensive sparkplugs for the Seahawks, teaming up for 36 points. Both guards led the deadly Virginia Beach shooting which produced 31 field goals in 45 tries from outside.

Fund Appeal Lags Behind Other Years

On the basis of returns so far received only a small percentage of the needy families in our city and county can be helped to a Merry Christmas. Donations of money are sorely needed to buy food, clothing and shoes. A fair response to our appeal for used toys has been received by the Fire Dept. More toys and dolls are needed to assure families with children a small remembrance at Christmas.

Applications have been received from nearly five hundred families in this area. These appeals to the Joy Fund have been verified as actually in need by Welfare Department and Joy Fund investigators. Particular attention has been paid to requests from families with children and from old people.

The Joy Fund in past years has been the agency responsible for bringing cheer to 400 to 500 people. The outlook is dim for most people who have made application to the Joy Fund. Donations lag pitifully far behind what has formerly been received in past years.

Cancer Society News

Last Wednesday and Thursday of the American Cancer Society was happy to have a visit from Mrs. Abby K. Raine, Field Representative from the Virginia Division Staff Headquarters of the American Cancer Society. While here, Mrs. Raine met with several Unit Officers and Committee Chairmen; and, at the Workshop on Thursday morning, she met a large number of the volunteers who work so diligently making cancer dressings each week. Mrs. Raine said the State Division is well pleased with the progress this Unit is making with its new and enlarged program.

In Richmond on December 18th, Dr. James Todd attended a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Virginia Division of the Cancer Society, to which he was recently elected. Dr. Todd is Vice-President of the Princess Anne Unit.

Bank of Virginia Beach Has Three New Vice-Presidents

Three new vice-presidents have been appointed by the Bank of Virginia Beach, according to an announcement made last week by E. H. Church, president, following a meeting of the institution's Board of Directors.

George T. Mullen, who has served as cashier of the bank for a number of years, was promoted to vice-president and remains as cashier. Alfred W. Craft, Jr. and Wyndham E. Brown III, assistant cashiers, were elected active vice-presidents. The promotions became effective immediately.

Mullen is a veteran of 25 years in the banking business and has served as cashier since the local bank was organized in 1945. Prior to that he was employed by the Southern Bank of Norfolk.

Mullen has long been active in Little Theater work and is currently serving his second term as president of the Virginia Beach Little Theater. He is a director of the Chamber of Commerce and the Princess Anne Chapter of the American Red Cross. He is a member of the Virginia Beach Lions Club and treasurer of the Virginia Beach High School Stadium Association. He is married and lives in Bay Colony.

Craft, 28, lives in the 2400 block of Arctic Ave. with his wife and two children. He has been employed at the bank for eight years, going to work there after leaving the College of William and Mary.

Brown, 35, is also a former employee of the Southern Bank of Norfolk. He has been at the bank here for three years.

A captain in the Air Force Reserve, Brown served in that branch of the service during the war and spent a year in a German prisoner-of-war camp after being shot down over Verona, Italy.

Fort Story Turkey Shoot

FORT STORY (Dec. 19)—The Fort Story Rod and Gun Club here is sponsoring a holiday turkey shoot from noon to dusk December 23rd on a sand range opposite the Oceana Naval Air Station and is featuring a simulated live turkey competition in the military tradition.

The shoot—open to the public—will offer a dressed Rockingham Turkey for each order fired. The club has promised to fire as many orders as time allows.

The exact location is one half mile south of Highway 58 on Route 615 (Courtthouse Road).

The competition will offer both conventional and simulated live turkey targets. The conventional targets are fired on with shotguns. The simulated targets will be modeled after Army combat range cards, and will be mounted on swivels to imitate in appearance the old-fashioned turkey shoots using live turkeys and rifles.

Purpose of the shoot is to raise money for the club's conservation projects. Empire Motors, a Virginia Beach firm, is assisting in the sponsorship of the shoot as a community service.

Lt. Millard P. Doyle Addresses Civitan Club

LA. Millard P. Doyle, Public Information Officer of Norfolk Squadron 3 of the Civil Air Patrol addressed the Virginia Beach Civitan Club on Tuesday Dec. 18. Lt. Doyle, who in civilian life is a well-known Norfolk dentist, told the Civitans of the origin and growth of the Civil Air Patrol. At the present, it has 80,000 senior members, 50,000 Cadets and operates 7,000 aircraft throughout the United States. According to Lt. Doyle, Virginia has 32 senior squadrons and 29 Cadet squadrons headquartered at Richmond. Tidewater has 5 squadrons two of which are located in Norfolk.

While the Civil Air Patrol is an auxiliary of the U. S. Air Force, all of its members serve on a voluntary non-pay basis. The squadron members pay all of the expenses of operating their squadrons buying their own planes, gasoline oil and other expenses. Only when they are on an Air Force mission is any material furnished to the Civil Air Patrol. In the past year the Civil Air Patrol flew 65% of all the search and rescue missions in the United States. The Norfolk squadron 3 in the past year has flown search missions from the northern Chesapeake Bay to Eastern North Carolina looking for crashed Navy aircraft, lost fishermen and hunters and other persons in distress.

City Council Approves Amended Utilities Tax

The Virginia Beach City Council Monday approved on preliminary reading an amended utilities tax originally submitted at its November meeting.

The tax will become effective Feb. 1 if, as is expected, it has final approval in the January meeting.

The proposed utility tax ordinance calls for a 10 per cent levy on the base charge made for telephone service—party-line, private-line and commercial. Then it would impose a 10 per cent levy on all household gas and electric power bills with a maximum tax of 60 cents a month on gas and of $1.20 a month on electricity. Commercial users' would pay a straight 6 per cent tax.

A 10 per cent tax also would be paid on power used for water heating on separate meters.

L. F. Patrick of the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. noted that telephone already bear a 10 per cent federal tax and called the proposed additional tax "discriminatory and disproportionate" and "an unreasonable burden."

Ray Cassette of the Tidewater Gas Corp. and Wallace Clark of the Virginia Beach Gas Corp. said the ordinance would impose an unfair tax on gas, since coal, oil, wood and other fuels would escape.

On final reading, the Council approved the lowering of a city cigarette tax from 3 cents to 2 cents a pack; a tax on beach equipment; and a tax on restaurant meals, raising it to compare with that levied on hotel dining rooms.

It also approved a $250 appropriation for the celebration of the Order of Cape Henry 1607 on April 27.

Admiral Burke Yule Message

"In this holy Christmas season with its eternal hope of peace and good will we in the United States Navy have renewed reason to dedicate ourselves to our duty and to our country. The swift and powerful response of our fleets over the world's great oceans these past weeks again uphold the policy of our government in bringing about a more favorable situation in the Middle East. Our readiness and devotion to duty have made the war clouds over the world less black and given the star of Christmas a chance to shed its light on the free peoples of the world.

Whether at sea, in port, or on foreign station, each of you may take just pride in your enthusiasm, your unflinching willingness and your selfless service. Wherever our ships sail the hopes of men of good will grow brighter in their wake.

May the real spirit of Christmas abide with all of you, and may all of us in concert with free peoples everywhere come nearer in the New Year to realizing man's desire for justice and freedom."

TWINKLE, TWINKLE, NEXT YEAR'S CAR . . .
Beads having almost as many lights, this year's Christmas automobiles will outshine the Yule Tree ornaments with their expansive and gleaming brightwork!
What makes this generous use of polished metal trim noteworthy is the fact that so many auto industry soothsayers and crystal gazers had led us to believe that the 1957 models would be practically naked.
And since the auto makers are very realistic and practical people, there must be a reason for the big dazzle instead of the trimless wonders we had expected. In fact, we suspect there are several reasons. For one thing the increasing use of stainless steel gives them a solid metal to work with. There's nothing to wear off, pit or peel.
It retains its lustre as long as it lasts, will never rust, in spite of salt air, salt water, road salt or other blizzard - fighting highway chemicals. And the strength of this high - alloy steel in those hard body mouldings means extra protection from the dings of the car parked close by. Pull wheel-covers, which have become one of the newly popular automobile accessories, are made of the same extra tough metal. And for the very latest, there is the all - stainless hard - top!

But we suspect the overpowering reason for the increasing gleam and glitter is that people like their cars that way . . . and with stainless steel to give the glitter new permanence and durability, the brightwork, as well as the gas-buggy, is here to stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Kornegay will leave tomorrow by plane to spend the holidays with their son-in-law and daughter Dr. and Mrs.
Robert F. Kibler and family in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Hitchings - Gresham Rites Held Last Saturday

The First Presbyterian Church of Virginia Beach, Va., was the setting last Saturday for the marriage of Miss Barbara Mae Hitchings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Hitchings, to Walter Quarles Gresham, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Quarles Gresham.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert P. Davis, of Richmond, former pastor of the church, assisted by the Rev. F. H. Strieby, Pastor of Scott Memorial Methodist Church, in setting of Christmas greens, white snapdragons, white stock carnations, white pom-poms and lighted candles. The wedding music was played by Mrs. George L. Aldridge, organist, and Joseph R. White, Jr. sang "Entreat Me Not To Leave Thee" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Mrs. Barbara Mae Gresham

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of lace and tulle over satin, styled with a basque bodice to the portrait neckline. Long lace sleeves ending in wedding points over the hands and the very bouffant skirt of ruffles swept into a brief train. Her fingertip length veil of imported illusion was arranged from a lace pillbox with ruching sparked with sequins. She carried a satin covered Bible with royal bouquet orchids and showered with Stephanotis.

Miss Loretta Ann Hitchings, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a velvet gown of emerald green, styled with a basque bodice to the oval neckline and abbreviated sleeves. The very bouffant skirt was floor length. Her headpiece was a matching velvet crown studded with pearls with a circular veil. She carried a muff of white shirred velvet styled with a spray of Christmas greens centered with a red poinsettia and white bells. The bridesmaids were Miss Patsey Hitchings, sister of the bride, Miss Helen Byrd Gresham, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Mary Va. Garrett, all of Oceana, Miss Lorraine Cox, of Virginia Beach, Miss Gayle Chandler, of Front Royal, and Miss Marie Koonts, of Elkton. They wore Christmas red gowns and headpieces styled like the honor attendant and carried identical muffs. Little Miss Mary Virginia Walhoad, of Tullahoma, Tenn., cousin of the bride, as flower girl, wore a white velvet gown and carried a miniature muff styled similar to the other attendants.

Walter Quarles Gresham was best man for his son. Groomsmen were Thomas Copeley and Bentley Lackey of Oceana, James Jordan of Norfolk, William Sindlinger of Portsmouth, Howard Futrell of Newport News, Frank W. Cox, Jr. of Williamsburg, David Frey of Elkton, and Gordon Wal-hood of Tullahoma, Tenn. Mrs. Hitchings chose for the wedding a street length dress of brown French lace over satin styled with an oval neckline, sheath skirt with flange in back and a corsage of cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Gresham wore a mauve pink polka taffeta street length sleeves and a sheet skirt and wore a purple orchid.

"Plant More Trees" Goal Reached

A total of 23,683,375 forest tree seedlings has been sold for the 1956-57 tree planting season, which has just gotten underway, and additional orders sufficient to raise that total to at least 25 million trees are now being processed. According to L. E. Ward, chairman of the Governor's "Plant More Trees" Committee, this means that the 25 million goal, which was established for the second year of the three-year tree planting program, has already been reached.

Information provided by the Virginia Division of Forestry indicated that the Charlottesville district was leading in number of seedlings sold to date with a total of 2,642,700. It was closely followed by the Farmville District with 2,343,950; after which came the Tappahannock District with 1,910,800; Waverly, with 1,897,250; Richmond, 1,749,625; Salem, 727,600; Portsmouth, 307,250; Staunton, 214,700; and Abingdon, 69,500. This represented a total of 11,863,375 seedlings ordered by farmers and other small landowners.

Larger orders from pulp and paper mills and lumber companies, and for use on state and national forests, totaled 11,820,000. Most of the industrial orders represent seedlings purchased for planting on company owned lands, but included those for giving away to landowners on a "free" or "matching" basis as well.

Total number of seedlings available for planting this season is approximately 29 million. This includes 27.5 million loblolly pine, 750,000 white pine, 600,000 shortleaf pine, and about 150,000 of other species such as yellow poplar, Virginia pine, black locust, and red cedar. On the basis of present orders, this means that only 4 million trees are still available to fill orders that will be received by the Division of Forestry through the months of December, January, February, and March.

Seedlings are grown by the State in two nurseries — one at Charlottesville, with a capacity of only 3 million; and a much larger one near Providence Forge in New Kent County. Seedlings are available to landowners at a cost ranging from $.45 delivered for 1,000 loblolly or shortleaf pine to $.65 for white pine or yellow poplar. Orders should be sent directly to the State office at the Virginia Division of Forestry at Charlottesville, or to the various district offices mentioned above.

Action of Federal authorities in Clinton, Tenn., under orders of Attorney General Brownell and as a result of the appeal of the Anderson County school board, is technically a defense of the US District Court. The 16 arrested by the G-men are charged with violation of an injunction prohibiting anti-Negro demonstrations and issued by Federal Judge Robert L. Taylor during last September's anti-integration demonstrations. Yet, historically speaking, it could well mark the opening of phase two of the integration program — that of implementing the Supreme Court's school decision.

It may be timely, therefore, to remind all concerned of the ruling handed down in South Carolina on July 15, 1955 by a special court consisting of two judges from the US Circuit of Appeals and one US

District Court judge — and which remains the law.

Referring to the Supreme Court, this special court declared: "It has not decided that the Federal Courts are to take over or regulate the public schools of the States."

"It has not decided that the States must mix persons of different races in the schools or must require them to attend schools or must deprive them of the right of choosing the schools they attend."

"What it has decided, and all that it has decided, is that a State may not deny to any person on account of race the right to attend any school that it maintains. This, under the decision of the Supreme Court, the State may not do directly or indirectly; but if the schools which it maintains are open to children of all races, no violation of the Constitution is involved, even though the children of different races voluntarily attend different schools, as they attend different churches."

"Nothing in the Constitution or in the decision of the Supreme Court takes away from the people freedom to choose the schools they attend. The Constitution, in other words, does not require integration. It merely forbids discrimination. It does not forbid such segregation as occurs as the result of voluntary action. It merely forbids the use of governmental power to enforce segregation."

It would therefore seem, in the light of this clarification, that it should not be beyond the reasonableness and resourcefulness of men and women of good will, and of both races, to arrive at mutually agreeable school policies. But, unfortunately, it will be necessary to restrain the hotheads, zealots, professional trouble-makers and morons of both races before common sense and mutual consideration can prevail in the management of our schools — which, it should be especially noted, are still the responsibility of the state and the community.

Stop, Look and Listen!

Don't Call Car Smashups Accidents! Lawbreaking Is Cause of Most Deaths

The word "accident" is a phony. It's used to describe what happens when cars collide with each other or run down pedestrians. It's also utter nonsense to regard people who cause these crashes as poor and unfortunate victims of circumstances.

These two fallacies, the experts say, are serious handicaps to our national traffic safety effort. Because people believe these false ideas, we are losing the battle to save lives on the highway and find ourselves in a traffic emergency.

Most of our so-called auto accidents aren't that at all. They are caused occurrences, and the causes are easily identifiable.

Chief Cause
What are the chief causes of crashes? They can be lumped into one large and simple category — LAWBREAKING.

A comprehensive study by a leading auto insurance company reveals that a fantastic number — 88 per cent — of last year's highway victims died because of traffic law violations!

This study by Lumbermens Mutual Casualty Company shows that lawbreaking killed 33,700 of last year's more than 38,000 highway victims.

These 33,700 could have been alive and with their families today if the persons who were responsible for the fatal crashes only had obeyed the law.

Commenting on the study, James

S. Kemper, chairman of Lumbermens, said that nine out of 10 traffic fatalities could be classified more accurately as "manslaughter or suicide by homicidal highwaymaniacs."

"How can a death that results because of a violation of the law really be classified as an accident?" Kemper asked.

Typical Reports

Ask any police officer trained in traffic investigation and he'll tell you from personal experience the terrible toll exacted by lawbreakers. Or look into reports of typical accidents such as the following to see the vicious results of breaking traffic laws:

—Three youths killed in high speed crash. (Car traveling 80 m.p.h. Speed limit was 65.)

—Driver and woman companion killed when car loses race to railroad crossing. (Violating speed law, ignoring flashing signals.)

—Six killed in head-on collision. (One car straddling center lane.) Eleven persons were killed in these, three so-called accidents. They might be alive today if the persons responsible had been truly law-abiding citizens. So could 33,700 other people who were killed last year.

Double Standard

When it comes to the law, we Americans have a peculiar double standard. Supposedly we're a nation dedicated to the law and to obeying it. We believe it is good that men obey the law and it is bad when they break it — except traffic laws, that is. We have a different standard for that.

You've heard many people brag about how fast their cars will go. Almost surely they had to break a speed law to prove it. You've also heard people brag about how they can spot police officers in their rear-view mirrors. They're proud, apparently, that they can break the law and get away with it. But they beller if they are caught by a police officer they didn't see.

Tal behavior such as this is so-called acceptable — despite the fact that more than 38,000 people die annually because of lawbreaking on the highway.

It's a fact that most drivers are careful and are law-abiding most of the time. The regular and frequent lawbreakers are in minority, but they're a constant threat to all other drivers on the road.

Any time a driver violates a traffic law, he's a potential killer. You could be his victim.

"The vast majority of drivers who are law-abiding deserve protection from the small but dangerous group of homicidal highwaymaniacs," Kemper asserted.

"If this group of potential killers won't obey the law voluntarily, strict and impartial enforcement of realistic traffic laws and stern justice must be employed to deter them and to protect others."

(Next week: What Can Be Done.)

More Floor Space

Families are demanding more floor space in their homes, but don't want to spend more than they can afford for larger floor areas. You can get much more floor-space when a home is framed in well insulated wood-side walls which don't take up the interior walls require. For instance, a home 28x40 feet, when framed in heavy duty Douglas fir studs will give 40 added square feet of floor space over a similar home with thicker masonry walls.

Adrienne Bena Massey, decorating Christmas candles with United States Savings Bonds, takes time out from helping the people of her native Hungary to wish her fellow Americans a happy New Year of peace on earth, good will toward men. "What a wonderful thing," she says, "to be able to own these shares in one's country and to give them to our loved ones as presents with a future, representing our faith, our trust, our love for our country and our free way of life."

Holiday Driving

Fatigue is a real killer at Christmas time. The Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company draws attention to the commonly observed fact that family activity and exertion reaches its peak during this season. Hurried shopping, wrapping, and distributing gifts, late social hours, more to eat and drink, all combine to place a heavy drain upon mental and physical alertness. Remember this when driving. Compensate by driving more slowly, by using more driving sense. Live to make the Holidays a happy memory.

Christmas means much to children; also teen-agers. Thousands of students home for the Holidays will be piling into family cars; embarking upon a whirl of fun and social activities. The Institute for Safer Living says that the majority of licensed young drivers are known to be serious minded, well trained in driving practices, and eager to prove their responsibility upon the highways. All motorists are urged to show courtesy and consideration toward these young drivers. You may help them to avoid a tragic accident. But — be on your guard against the highway playboy. He is in the minority, but is responsible for many of the heart-rending crashes.

Boy—I can hardly wait!
I've got my stocking hung by the chimney with plenty of care, and Christmas morning, it'll be bursting full of all sorts of good things. There'll be a candy cane sticking out of the top, there always is... and a walnut stuffed way down in the tip of the toe.

And then... the tree! I don't think there's a prettier sight on earth than a Christmas tree. And all those presents underneath it, wrapped up in bright colors and tied with ribbons.

Then Mom and Dad and my sister Ellen and I will get dressed, and we'll go to Church. That's one of the best parts of Christmas. For Mom and Dad always say that Christmas is the celebration of Christ's birthday. I love the music in our Church at Christmas—"Hark the Herald Angels Sing," and all the other carols. When I hear them, I feel all filled up with joy, and I know why our minister says that Christmas is the happiest day of the whole year.

Boy—I can hardly wait! And I just hope that your Christmas is going to be as merry as ours!

ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a schoolhouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, there is no hope for the future of our nation. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and spiritual support. (4) For the sake of his soul. Firm in his faith, he can go to his grave regularly and read your Bible daily.

PORT STORY, Va. — Greetings and best wishes for the holiday season have been extended from the personnel of Fort Story to the residents of the surrounding communities.

Colored lights have been mounted on the post's two entrance gates along with figures of Santa Claus and his sleigh to illustrate this and the holidays wishes for the post's personnel as well.

Other decorations have also been elected, but these are more than seasonal. Three DUKW's, of no further practical use, have been mounted by the two gates and on the post parade ground respectively, painted white and now adorned with signs and insignia. The DUKW, which is still in use at Fort Story, originally inspired the post's nickname as "the home of the trucks that swim," and the tiny Transportation Corps installation on historic Cape Henry conducts almost all of the Army's amphibious truck training.

Although a number of other "swimming truck" and other types of equipment have been added to Fort Story, the DUKW still remains a symbol of the post and the exhibition vehicles are now adorned with large replicas of the Service Forces shoulder patch worn by the men of the TC and the insignia of the Transportation Corps, plus the identification of the identification of the post's Fifth Terminal Command B.

BEST SUPPLY
The 870th Transportation Company, which has taken post honors for its outstanding supply room five times, was awarded the "Best Supply" plaque for the Transportation Training Command. Major General Rush B. Lincoln, Jr., commanding general, visited the post this week to present the award.

The 870th is commanded by First Lieutenant Nicholas H. Jongeblood, who replaced Captain

Lane T. Scott on December 15. Captain Scott has been assigned to Germany. Sergeant Ted Arrington is supply sergeant.

CONSTRUCTION

The installation of gas ranges in unit dining halls on the post began this week. Food was formerly prepared on ranges using coal.

The latest also indicates the status of a number of other construction projects on the post. Improvement of Batchelor officers Quarters 512, the maintenance shed for the post's mammoth BARC's (Barge Amphibious Resupply Cargo) and the hobby shop have been completed. Work on the Landship, dependent quarters on Thomas Nelson Circle and the new water tank near the East Gate is 90% completed. The new dispensary is 50% finished.

J. W. Bateson and Company of Dallas, Texas is the apparent low bidder on the basic construction of 150 Capehart housing units at Fort Story, with figures of $2,174,500 for construction and $113,000 for off-site work. No opening date for the construction has been set. Bidding on the project was handled by the Norfolk District Office of the Army Corps of Engineers.

ASSISTANCE
Five DUKW's from the 461st Amphibious Truck Company — nicknamed "The Barracudas" — participated in a special operation at Little Creek Amphibious Base on December 12.

The DUKW's, under the command of Second Lieutenant Lawrence M. Koster, were taken aboard two different Naval cargo vessels to give the sailors practice in taking such cargo aboard and lashing it.

Fort Story is also assisting the Post Office Department during the Christmas rush season. Three three quarter ton trucks are now in service at the Virginia Beach Post Office and two others at Dayside. The 46th Truck Group of Fort Eustis, Fort Story's parent installation, provided 4 2 1/2 ton trucks to the Norfolk Post Office. The Army is providing the vehicles and the Postal Service the drivers and crewmen.

VISITORS

The Army Advisory Council visited the post on December 17. The group joined officers from Fort Story in luncheon at the Officers Club then toured the installation, including the Service Club, Non-Commissioned Officers Club, and the "day room" of recreation room of the 344th Transportation Company. The BARC and Landing Craft Retriever were also demonstrated. Included in the program was a discussion and a briefing on the post, pointing up items of community interest.

Members of the Council are: Frank D. Dusch, mayor of Virginia Beach; Reverend Henry C. Barton, president of the Princess Anne Ministerial Alliance; Judge E. Victor Gresham; Richard Webbon, representing Paul Brown, chairman of the Princess Anne County of Supervisors; Harold B. Kellam, president of the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce; Frank W. Cox, Superintendent of Schools for Princess Anne County and Judge Floyd Kellam, Judge of the Circuit Court of Princess Anne. Representing Fort Story were Lieutenant Colonel F. C. Ward, deputy commander, and M. A. Peterson, executive officer; along with Chaplains (Captain) E. F. Spilane and (First Lieutenant) W. W. Owen.

The Army Advisory Council is a group of outstanding citizens from the surrounding community which meets with military leaders to discuss items of mutual interest. The Virginia Beach High School Band presented a concert of Christmas music at the Fort Story Service Club on December 16 at 3 p.m. The first program of its kind to come to the post this season. The band also invited personnel present to join in a community Christmas carol sing.

Christmas Meditations

With the Christmas season again upon us, and every house and home showing forth evidences of celebrating this notable event, it might be well for us to stop and meditate awhile. What has, or does the birth of Christ Child mean to the world? And what (if that is possible to know) does our celebration of Christmas mean to the Christ Child?

That the world would be a dark and desolate place if the Christ Child had not been born, remains without question. Though it would be no worse than it is now for the man who has not accepted him as Lord and Master. It was quite one thing for the world to witness the birth of the Christ Child in Bethlehem, and an entirely different thing for man to have this same Jesus born within his heart.

Through the scriptures are quite empathetic that Jesus was not "Flesh", but rather, "Came into the flesh", this can mean nothing to man unless he likewise lets Jesus come into his flesh. The Daypring from on high, to be sure, brought new light into the world; but man remains in darkness as long as he does not walk in that light. The Morning Star of old, which prophesied of One to come into the world, can mean nothing to man until that same Morning Star has arisen within his heart. So also, the Star of the East, which guided the Wise Men through the world, and to Bethlehem and the Babe, is no use to man until he turns his back to his earthly habitations and pleasant surroundings in the world, and goes forth to seek him who was born, "King of the Jews." Though it was prophesied that when he came into the world, his name should be called "Wonderful", this name can hold no "Wonders" for the man who has not experienced the pardon and forgiveness which his name brings. His mission in coming into the world, was to "Set the captives free", "To bind up the broken hearted", "To proclaim liberty to the captives", "To preach good tidings to the meek", "To preach the acceptable year of the Lord", but these are gifts which he hands out only at the Cross, and there man must go in order to receive his benefits. It remains then, the birth of the Christ Child can mean nothing to the world until and unless the world (man) opens his arms to receive him.

So also, our celebration of Christmas can mean much, or it can mean nothing, to the Christ Child. If, as did the Wise Men of the East, we open the treasures of our hearts and present our gifts to him, he will without doubt reward us richly. It is true, we may not have gold, frankincense and myrrh to present to him, (Gold for a king, for he is "King of Kings", Frankincense for a high-priest, for he is our true

"High - Priest", myrrh for a physician, for he is the "Great Physician". This is doubtless what the three gifts signified, but we can present him with gifts which are just as meaningful to him as these. We can give him our hearts, we can give him our minds, and we can give him our time. Thus, our celebration of Christmas may mean much to the Christ Child. If however, our celebration of Christmas simply means an exchange of presents, a time to decorate our homes, and a time to keep a holiday instead of a Holy Day, then our celebration of Christmas will hardly be acceptable to him. We need not only "Keep Christ in Christmas" (N. & W. R. R. Billboards) but we need to keep Christ in our lives. We need not only to keep the 25th of December for the honor and glory of God, but we need to keep every day of the year in that manner. Brethren: these are some of the things we ought to meditate upon at Christmas.

Jacob J. Hershberger, Minister of Amish Mennonite Church of Kempsville, Va.

Naval Firemen Santa's Helpers

NORFOLK, Va. — Many children in the Bayside and Chesapeake Beach areas will have a merry Christmas this year thanks to the efforts of the Little Creek Naval Amphibious Base Fire Department.

Firemen have been working since early this month repairing and painting toys for deserving children in the nearby areas of Bayside and Chesapeake Beach. This is the fifth year in a row that the firemen have undertaken this project.

The toys, all of them donated to the Bayside Joy Fund by civilians and military personnel living near the base, are being prepared for Santa's bag by the men in their workshop in Bldg. 3008, West Annex.

More than 1000 toys have already been completed and thousands more still remain to be repaired. The work will continue until shortly before Christmas when the completed toys will be delivered to the Chesapeake Beach Volunteer Fire Department for delivery to the children. Toys which have not been repaired by that time will be kept for distribution next Christmas.

Money needed to buy paint and other supplies necessary to repair the toys was supplied by the Navy Relief Thrift Shop at the amphibious base.

Community Caroling Xmas Eve

Attention, good people all, of Virginia Beach! Here is your chance to give your child something special for Christmas — something that won't break, and which won't cost you anything but an hour of your time on Christmas Eve, about twilight. It's something that you will treasure, too, as a Christmas memory.

This is the community caroling, by the big Christmas tree at the foot of 25th Street.

The sponsors: the Virginia Beach Fire Department and the Volunteer Fire Department.

Fire Chief "Bubba" Bayne and his men will be wearing their gallant uniforms (probably none more thrilling to a child.) There will be music — so far, one accordion played by Mrs. Larena Patton, but if anyone has a spare organ, portable piano, or other instrument to lend or play oneself, just telephone Bayne at 2666.

Last year was the first occasion of this community carol - singing. It was a great success, though only about 100 attended, for not too many people knew about it.

This year, a larger crowd is expected, and it may be this singing of old Christmas carols at twilight will become a true Virginia Beach tradition.

Bayne says the idea came from Mrs. David Bachelder, of Cavalier Park. He remembers such community singing in the little town of Wilton, in Connecticut.

She remembers her father holding her first son, Tom, on his shoulder, while he sang (with the other fathers, the other mothers) and Tom giggled up and down, for joy.

Be there at the community carol - singing Christmas Eve. Give your child something to enjoy, in the true Christmas spirit — and something you will all remember, as part of Christmas.

BRINGING YOU
THE SEASON'S

Best Wishes

and a sincere word of appreciation for your fine patronage during the past

DRUNKOMETER

Pioneer in the field of chemical tests for intoxication was a French chemist who, in 1814, pointed out that when death is caused by a poison, the body organs will contain demonstrable amounts of the poison, according to Dr. R. N. Barger, inventor of the "drunkometer."

"The Iron Petticoat" Co-Stars Bob Hope, Katharine Hepburn

When Katharine Hepburn, as intrepid Russian flier, tries to lure Bob Hope from the "fetters" of capitalism and he retaliates by countering her Soviet ideology with some fast facts in American love-making, the laughs are long and loud in "The Iron Petticoat".

This hilarious and witty spoof on the Cold War has Miss Hepburn playing Captain Vinka Kovenko, one of Russia's leading lady pilots, who inadvertently lands her plane on an American airfield in Germany. On the premise that it would be a terrific gun in their psychological warfare to have Vinka tell the truth about Communism, the Americans assign Captain Chuck Lockwood (B. B. Hope) to "soften" her up.

Chuck approaches the assignment with reluctance. In the first place, the severe, uncompromising, manmishly - uniformed Vinka does not appear likely softening-up material. In the second place, he's got a date in London with a girl named Connie. He figures his best bet is to take Vinka to London and combine business with pleasure.

At first Vinka tries to inculcate Chuck in the pitfalls of capitalism and bourgeois slavery. Then she succumbs to black lace lingerie and a low - cut evening gown, and an astonished Chuck succumbs to her. But by now Chuck's suspicious Army superiors, Soviet agents in London and a jealous Connie realize that things are not going according to plan.

It takes a game of hide-and-seek escapes from hotel windows, the kidnapping of Vinka by the Russians and one of history's funniest mock trials. In which Vinka is sentenced to face a firing squad, to goad a now very much in love Chuck to heroic action. He becomes a stowaway on the plane carrying Vinka back to Russia.

Bob Hope expresses his appreciation for a bottle of liquor in one of the comedy scenes of "The Iron Petticoat," hilarious film in which he co-stars with Katharine Hepburn for the first time. Hope plays an American officer assigned to convert Russian flier into Hepburn to the ways of democracy.

A group of well-known British players appear with the stars, headed by James Robertson-Justice as Skarnoff, head of the Soviet agents, Robert Helpmann as a Russian used as a pawn to trap Vinka, and Noelle Middleton as Connie.

Filmed in England in VistaVision with its color by Technicolor, "The Iron Petticoat" was directed by Ralph Thomas and was produced by Betty Box. It is being distributed by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Beach High Now Fully Accredited by Assn.

Virginia Beach Superintendent Frank W. Cox congratulates Principal James A. Johnson, Jr. on the news that Virginia Beach High School is now fully accredited by the Southern Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges.

The school has been accredited by the State for several years, but this latest accreditation, gives the school additional recognition and status.

"Our school has been accredited by the State Department of Education ever since our program was set up when this school was opened five years ago" said Mr. Cox, "but it was the results of an evaluation by ten outstanding educators last Spring that brought about this latest recognition by the Southern Association". He went on to say that the school is recognized by Colleges and Universities of Virginia and surrounding states as doing an excellent job in preparing the college bound student.

Mr. Johnson said that the school has graduated 150 students and that of this number 105 or approximately 70% entered college and only about 11% of those entering have failed to remain in college. Compared to the National averages these figures are exceptionally good. Mrs. Margaret Jeter the Guidance Director of the school explained that at the present time there are 93 Virginia Beach High School graduates attending 33 different colleges and Universities from Michigan State in the North, to Tulane and the University of Miami in the South, and from the Norfolk Division of William & Mary in the East, to the University of San Francisco in the West.

Christmas Flowers For Cyd Charisse

The traditional Christmas plant, the poinsettia, is admired by Cyd Charisse, on the set of her new movie, MGM's "Silk Stockings." The plant, with its star-like flowers, was sent to her by the world's leading florists, members of the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association. The poinsettia is recommended as a gift plant, because it will last during the entire holiday season, and can be kept to bloom another year. For those who prefer another color to the flaming red, poinsettias are available in creamy white and coral.

Whither?

THE INNKEEPERS looked, and shook their heads.
 "No room—the house is filled—pass on!"

Pass on? WHITHER?

The world almost 2000 years later pleads the same question . . . whither? In the centuries since the first Christmas Eve, mankind many times has plagued itself with violence and sorrow, and whole nations have engulfed and lost themselves in the mad race—whither?

This season of the year recalls the way as it was shown by Him who spoke guidance for all peoples in all years. May it be the prayer of men on this anniversary of the birth of the Prince of Peace that our world may move in the light and understanding of His words . . . "on earth, peace, good will toward men."

The Norfolk and Western Railway and the Norfolk and Western Family are deeply grateful for the privilege of living and working in a land blessed by freedom and peace. It is our sincere wish that this Christmas Season will be full of good cheer and happiness for our friends and patrons everywhere.

Va. State Veterans' Agency Releases Annual Report

Harry F. Carper, Jr., of Roanoke, Director of the Division of War Veterans' Claims, branch of Attorney - General J. Lindsay Almond's Department of Law, Virginia State Government, has released the annual report on the Division's activities to the Honorable Thomas B. Stanley, Governor of Virginia. The report covers the fiscal year July 1, 1955 - June 30, 1956. The report shows continued efforts to render comprehensive and effective service to veterans and their survivors. Carper's office is located in the building occupied by the Veterans' Administration Regional Office in Roanoke. The Division has 16 offices throughout Virginia, strategically located according to veteran population. Regularly scheduled itineraries by each Service Officer cover all of the outlying counties and towns in the State. Carper says that activities increased for the period. There are 437,000 veterans of all Wars in our State, plus the survivors of deceased servicemen and veterans, all of whom need the Division's services at some time or another. The Division renders many extra - curricular services in conjunction with claims - work for such clients.

The function of the Division is to give all possible assistance to veterans and their survivors in obtaining benefits to which they are entitled under legislation. The field work consists of filing, developing and processing applications, as well as procurement of the necessary evidence and statistics needed to prosecute the claim. Personal representation is afforded the client by the Director's Office, using skilled and trained claims representatives, who appear in person before the various adjudication Boards of VA and some other Government agencies concerned. The Division assisted claimants during the reported fiscal year in obtaining benefits of $12,661,946, which included disability compensations and pensions, death pensions, Government insurance proceeds, education and training allowances, burial allowances, and many others. Many awards are never reported back to the Division and some are from other Govern-

Cub Scouts Honored At Christmas Party-Meet

A lot of Cub Scouts got just about as many decorations as a Christmas tree at the Dec. 10 meeting of Pack 60 at the First Presbyterian Church.

In fact, so many badges and arrows were awarded that awarder Hugh Lynn Cayce had to caution the audience not to applaud either individually or by den, but to applaud only at the conclusion of the total award presentations.

Otherwise, there would have been little time for the Christmas celebrations which were the main feature of this December program. In accordance with Cub Scout custom, the Honor Den of the preceding month conducted the opening ceremony, with flags. In this case, it was Den 6, under the instruction of Lt. David Allred, of P. L. O., at Fort Story.

SURE RESULT . . . Garage in London suburb, closed because of gas shortage, post notice of gas rationing and tax boost.

Announcements were made by Cubmaster Julian Burke, on such subjects as the Cub Scouts' work in selling tickets for the sale of Christmas trees sponsored by the Virginia Beach Civitan Club. A special cutting to N. A. S. Oceana, under the auspices of Lt. Com. Fred Turner, was also discussed. Inspection proved Den 5 the Honor Den for December. Garner House adjured the boys in all den especially to watch out for shoes (they must be well-polished), socks (they must be dark blue), tie-clasps (they must be authentic), and emblems (they must be worn on right).

Seven little Civilian-donated trees were dressed by the seven dens, with the Cub's own handmade decorations. Every kind of material was used to glittering effect, from eggshells to okra pods. Den 1 won the first award for this project, with Den 4 as runner-up, Den 5 as honorable mention.

Carols were sung, with musical arrangements by Mrs. Norris. After the Cub Scout Promise, stockings were dispensed to all the boys. Each stocking has been filled with fruits and nuts by Mrs. Donald L. Parker, of Den 7.

Boys winning awards were as follows:
In Den 1, Gregory Cayce, Peter De Witt, Robert Cronenberger, Jeffery Groves, Ken Fronharger, Martin Solasky, and Robert Webster, all won Wolf badges.
In Den 2, Jim Batchelor got his Bear plus a Gold Arrow on that badge; Syd Du Val, Bear; Ricky Norris, Gold Arrow on Bear.
In Den 3, Ricc Maher, Gold Arrow on Wolf; Garry Dolgins, Gold and Silver Arrow on Wolf; Geoffrey Gates, Silver Arrow on Wolf; Scott Polak, Silver Arrow on Bear.
In Den 5, Chiek Jordan and Doug Niel, Wolf; Chris Hudgins, Silver Arrow on Bear; Jim Hooper, Bob Cat.
In Den 6, Larry Powell received his Bear badge, plus Gold and Silver Arrows on Bear; Ricky Berquist, Silver Arrow on Wolf; Bruce Dunborn, Gold Arrow on Bear; Tommy Robertshaw, Silver Arrow on Bear.
In Den 7, Service Stars were awarded to Jim Briggs, Chris Goddard, Skeeter Lott, Jimmy Southerland, Billy Wahab, and Ricky Donaldson. Donaldson also received a Silver Arrow on Wolf.

Careful hands will often save somebody's life and the interesting part of it is that it might be your own life that is saved.

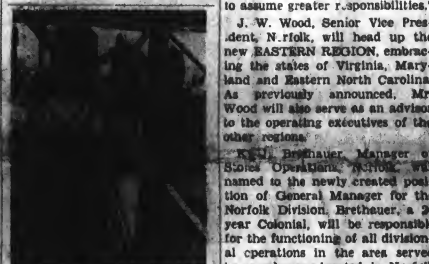

Congratulations On Accreditation

Virginia Beach Superintendent Frank W. Cox congratulates Principal James A. Johnson, Jr. on the news that Virginia Beach High School is now fully accredited by the Southern Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges.

The Virginia Beach Junior Assembly will hold its Christmas dance this Friday night, December 28, at the Cavalier Club. It has been announced. Dancing will begin at 9 o'clock and end at 12, midnight.

Motorists Urged To Keep Up Good Work

Motorists were urged today to keep up the good work and make the New Year's weekend another death-free four days on Virginia Beach streets.

Noting that the Christmas week-end passed without a motor fatality, C. R. Bailey, president of the local lodge of the Fraternal Order of Police, cautioned drivers to observe the same care as they greet 1957.

"Forget about celebrating when you get behind the steering wheel; take it easy driving to and from New Year's parties; make it coffee if you drive; and if you're not up to driving home, let someone else do it," Sgt. Bailey recommended. "Let's stay alert, stay alive, and make it a Safe and Happy New Year," he said.

Christmas Horse Show Scheduled

A Christmas horse show is scheduled to be held at the Great Neck Stable on Great Neck Road near London Bridge on Saturday morning, December 30. Judging will begin at 9:30 in the morning.

There will be classes for children under 21 years of age and judging will include 12 different categories. It was announced that lunch will be available on the grounds. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Gerry M. Ashburn at Virginia Beach 69532.

HAPPY NEW YEAR! Pee Wee Reese, captain of baseball's Brooklyn Dodgers, whose World Series defeat last October brought anguish cries of "Wait till next year!", points a hopeful finger at his Big Ben and announces that "next year" is here at last. Consumers have more money in their pockets this year than last, say representatives of the Agricultural Marketing Service. And the consumers are spending five percent more food. Continued expansion in economic activity is expected to raise consumer income further in the coming months.

The United States, in 1955, is estimated to have consumed about two-thirds of the total free world supply of nickel. In the same year, it produced only about two percent of the total supply.

Of $20 billion spent by all states for all purposes in fiscal 1955, $6.2 billion went for current operations. Nearly $6 billion went for state aid and "shared" taxes.

Towns Are For People

In 1957, the town of Martinsville, in southwestern Virginia, may well become the best-known community in America—as a result of the systematic efforts of the citizens, themselves, to improve the human values of the town.

More than a year ago, Martinsville established a voluntary, citizen-staffed "Mayor's Commission on Human Values" with the duty of studying the needs of this growing industrial city that was bursting its seams in expanding its area from three square miles to nine almost overnight. Yet the human problems of Martinsville differ only in degree and emphasis from those of any other American community—whether it is suffering growing pains or is in need of a civic pulmotor.

Under the direction of T. N. Barbour, a native and executive of the local furniture factory who accepted the arduous post of General Chairman of the Commission, action began in December 1955. Committee chairmen were chosen to investigate ten different areas of community needs and services, including teen-age problems; education for all ages, and for non-normal children; health and welfare programs; law enforcement, court procedures and prison administration; recreation guidance, library and cultural activities—human needs that were considered coequal with such physical needs as street-lighting, water,

The Commission and its ten committees were staffed from the top down with citizen volunteers. Working girls volunteered to serve one night a week as committee secretaries during the year-long study. So there could be no possibility of suggestion of administration domination, no single public official was permitted to serve on any committee. To finance this extended survey, Chairman Barbour raised a fund of $5,200 through donations of private citizens. Not a cent of public money was spent by the Commission.

Just the other day the Commission on Human Values handed its voluminous and detailed report to the Mayor and City Council. "The studying is over," said Mr. Barbour, "the recommendations have been made. Now it is time for action. We are agreed," he said, "that none of the recommendations is too big for the community to handle, and none so inconsequential to human welfare as to be ignored."

As matters stand at the beginning of a new year, the citizens of Martinsville have rendered conspicuous service to their town. And this evidence of devotion to civic duty is the best assurance that action will follow their recommendations. It should provide for other communities across the nation an inspiring example of what the people can do to make a good town better.

Fresh Viewpoints Can Overcome Mental Blocks

Tips on ways to get more power out of your brain cells are offered by Morton M. Hunt in an article, "How to Overcome Mental Blocks," appearing in January Reader's Digest as condensed from Mayfair.

Hunt reports that psychologists have found even slight apprehension, pressure as in examinations, too great eagerness to succeed as in applying for a job, and preconceptions can set up mental blocks. Such blocks make it difficult to see even simple solutions to problems, to recall names and hamper us in various ways.

Masquerading as "experience" such preconceptions so seriously block creative thinking that organizations like Bell Laboratories have devised techniques to counter this. When a group of scientists attack a project one man new to the problem is placed with them. His fresh approach and lack of a ready-made solution drawn from past experience shakes up the group's thinking and often results in new and better ideas.

Psychologists suggest that you, when stymied by a problem, talk it over with persons with backgrounds and training different from your's who may offer a fresh viewpoint.

An especially successful technique for countering mental blocks is the "brainstorm" session—a conference where (1) anything goes, (2) the wilder the ideas the better, and (3) nobody may criticize any ideas. Later, the brainstormers go over ideas noted down critically and expand and refine those most worthy.

Finally, Hunt asserts most problems are less difficult than they seem and deserve less attention than they get. He suggests jumping into the middle of the problem and tackling it from any angle. "Once you jump, the problem doesn't exist," he declares.

Choose Weapons Carefully:

Use Gun to Kill—And It's Called Murder, But Use an Automobile—It's an Accident

"ANY man who uses a gun to kill anybody today is a fool. He ought to use an automobile for his chance of getting away with murder are much better."

So said Robert L. Donagan, legal counsel for the Northwestern University Traffic Institute, the "West Point of Traffic Police," in describing the effect of our soft attitudes toward drivers who break the law and cause death. To illustrate his point, Donagan cited the following cases:

"A driver, through a flagrant violation of the law, killed two people and injured three. He was found guilty of negligent homicide and was sentenced to serve from 6 to 24 months."

Another story reported that in another court a man was found guilty of passing $300 worth of phony checks he had forged. His sentence was 18 to 24 years.

"Prosecutors who do not push vigorously for convictions in serious cases, fines who tend to be soft and judges who are inclined to be lenient are discouraging respect for the traffic laws and are encouraging lawbreaking," Donagan asserted.

"Public apathy has bred this soft attitude."

"We thought that poliomyelitis was a threat, and people were concerned about it," said Gov. L. B. Hunter of Washington. "Every family that had a child worried about the possibility of their youngster's getting it, and they would do anything to avoid it."

"And for every youngster of 14 or under that was afflicted and died from poliomyelitis, we killed 13 on the highways of our state—and people didn't seem to be particularly interested," Langhe said.

"Kill a man with a gun and we call it murder. Kill a man with a two-ton vehicle and we call it an accident."

Need Understanding
In the past, people have not supported laws even resented—good enforcement of the traffic laws because they have not understood the importance to them and to their families of drives aimed at law violations which last year were involved in 68 per cent of our 28,000 traffic deaths.

As more and more public officials are becoming aware that the flagrant traffic lawbreaker is a potential killer, enforcement drives are being stepped up throughout the country.

More than 100 cities have undertaken determined crackdowns, and the governors of 28 states either have launched get-tough drives or have expressed interest in stepped up law enforcement as a traffic safety measure.

What we need now, traffic authorities declare, is an aroused and informed public (1) to support the officials who are dedicated to strict and impartial enforcement of realistic traffic laws and (2) to demand action from those who still are sitting idly as the slaughter on the highways reaches record proportions.

More traffic tickets by police officers, however, is not enough to make a law enforcement program a life-saving success.

"Cooperation of the courts is of utmost importance," said James P. Bonomano, director of the traffic court program of the American Bar Association which since 1947 has been conducting seminars for prosecutors and judges to upgrade the administration of justice in the nation's traffic courts.

"Even if we have super-safe vehicles, more super highways and more highway improvements, all we can expect is a reduction of from 10 to 20 per cent at best—in collisions and fatalities," Bonomano pointed out.

"But if we move through law enforcement and education, we can make a reduction of from 80 to 90 per cent. This fact places a serious responsibility on traffic court judges."

Find the Causes
"Judges must decide which of offenders' violations through ignorance, which through mental or physical disability and which ones through a faulty attitude or a lack of respect for the law, and he must deal with each offender individually. Ideally, the court should be a classroom where causes are isolated and then eliminated."

Although police officers in one Tennessee city had stepped up enforcement, most of the offenders were being freed by the town's only traffic judge. The judge had to run for re-election and he thought he was making friends by his lenient attitude.

Maybe he was making friends—but the city's death rate continued to climb.

A year later, the judge suddenly got a change of heart. In a single day, 160 of 160 drivers that appeared before him were convicted. As word of the new court policy spread, the traffic death rate soon dropped so sharply that the city won a national traffic safety award.

NEXT WEEK—Notes on the Highway

'HEY, POP--'

- FORT STORY TELLINGS -

FORT STORY, Va. — A different combination of assignments has produced two new offices at Fort Story.

The Public Information Office assumed the additional responsibility of Troop Information — the new combination to be known as the Information Services Office. The education portion of what was formerly known as Troop Information and Education Office will become the Education Center.

First Lieutenant Melvin I. Feldman, former T&E officer, is now in charge of Education Center. The center arranges for courses for soldiers to improve their knowledge in almost any school subject by providing classes on the post, coordinating correspondence courses through the U. S. Armed Forces Institute, and arranging with local colleges and other education institutions for the enrollment of soldiers there for classes during off-duty hours.

The Troop Information program is designed to help soldiers keep abreast of current events.

The Public Information program which now joins Troop Information in the Information Services Office under Second Lieutenant William D. Allred, former PIO, provides liaison between the Army post and the general public. The office provides news releases and arranges for coverage of Army activities by news media, maintains a speakers bureau which provides speakers and programs for local civic groups and similar organizations, provides historical tours of Cape Henry for school classes and similar groups and generally represents the post in arrangements with the public.

INCENTIVE AWARDS
An estimated $5,000 per year will be saved by the suggestions of four Fort Story personnel who received Incentive Awards last week.

Increased efficiency in the operation of a DUKW was brought about by a suggestion of M. J. Ereshan concerning stencils to aid mechanic connecting wires in the vehicle's engine.

A saving of time and a decrease of truck body rusting and safety hazards resulted from a suggestion by G. E. Wood, who improved on the drain holes now used in truck bodies.

All sections of the Nike Field Maintenance Shop at Fort Story are now connected by an inter-communication system constructed entirely of salvage items. For this, K. W. Easter received an Incentive Award.

Private First Class A.M. Mavones, last month's Soldier of the Month for Fort Story, suggested a supplemental list to be utilized during troop information talks which improves by constructive criticism the speaking ability and general effectiveness of personnel leading discussions. The Army's troop information program encourages soldiers to keep abreast of current events.

The Incentives Award program provides rewards for workable suggestions and improvements which help the Army to better perform its mission and save time and money.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

Colonel George E. Woods, Jr., commanding officer of Fort Story, will return December 24 from Fort Bliss, Texas. He has attended an Atomic Weapon and Guided Missile Orientation Course at the Anti-Aircraft Artillery and Guided Missile School there since December 17.

Major W. P. Freligh, post comptroller, has just returned from attending the Military Comptroller Course at Fort Harrison near Indianapolis, Indiana.

Foot Note of History

About 1600 A.D. an Indian warrior on Washington's Gray's Harbor was stopped in the act of carving the prow of a war canoe in a great western red cedar tree standing at the water's edge. He never came back from the war, but his craftsmanship, the canoe prow is notoriously carved with an elk horn.

Remains today a mute evidence of his skill, and a living evidence of the durability of this wood, so prized today all over the U.S. for home siding, paneling or whatever durability and long life is a prime consideration.

The Detroit River is the busiest water route in the world, carries more tonnage than any other one shipping lane.

It is both refreshing and reassuring to note that the 1956 Sylvia TV Awards have been distributed with a commendable frankness, honesty and an overriding determination to observe the principle of "honor where honor is due."

While 29 TV programs and personalities are basking today in the warmth and publicity of the judges' approval, this distinguished panel has also pointed out some areas for improvement. In commenting on the TV handling of "crucial" news events, it was their salty comment that: "The networks seem unprepared to cover crisis." And, again in eliminating a prize category previously regarded as highly important, the "Show Most Entertaining to the Entire Family," the judges explained that they found no such show sufficiently outstanding.

Honors for the year's outstanding original teleplay went to "Requiem for a Heavyweight," with individual awards to two of its stars, Jack Palance for outstanding performance by an actor, and Ed Wynn for outstanding performance by a supporting actor. Among other winners were: "A Night to Remember," Gracie Fields, Jean Loring, Ernie Kovacs, the Kaiser Aluminum Hour, the Kraft Television "Theatre," the Ed Sullivan Show, Omnibus, Captain Kangaroo and Matinee Theatre.

Robert W. Sarnoff, president of NBC, was honored for bringing good music to TV. A special award was presented to the American Broadcasting Company and its stations to Columbia Broadcasting System and National Broadcasting Company for "the ingenuity, enterprise and sheer technical energy lavished on the political conventions."

But, at the same time the Committee of Judges, headed by the eminent composer and critic, Deems Taylor, reported to the distinguished audience of 400 leaders of TV, screen, stage and the press at the sixth annual awards ceremony their disappointment in another direction.

"We felt," declared the judges, "the same insensitivity, enterprise and technical energy were completely lacking in other crucial events—the United Nations deliberations on the fighting in Egypt and Hungary. The networks seem unprepared to cover crisis." By contrast, they voted an award to New York Station WPIX for its hours of UN coverage.

Constructively, and being quite alert to the facts of life, the judges suggested that the networks go out and find some customers who will stand by to sponsor special events "automatically and instantly." The judges held sponsors are equally responsible for public service coverage.

Thanks to these realistic judges, and to Sylvia, we can doubtless look forward to improvement in two significant departments—the world events, and entertainment that draws families together. And who shall say which is more important?

Let's Get Away from the Way We are Getting Away

If there is one predominant reason for travelling—anywhere—it is to enjoy the spiritual refreshment of "a change of scene." Perhaps we want all the comforts of home wherever we go—but it's the sameness of home that drives us elsewhere now and then.

All of which makes us wonder why the big steamship operators try so hard to make their liners look like hotels, to make their cabins and restaurants and public rooms seem as lubberly as the Louvre and to expend huge sums in gyroscopic stabilizers to rob the sea of its charm and give a vessel the imperturbability of Grand Central Station.

Another strange manifestation of this urge to impose sameness on people who would like things to be "different" is the chain hotel, where—from coast to coast—the bellhops wear the same uniform and the same syndicated smile, the menus present the same dishes and even the picture over the bed is the same.

We suspect it is to escape from the chains of standardization and to enjoy the distinctive local flavor of the city they are visiting that so many experienced travellers go to the Edgewater Beach in Chicago for instance, or the Mayflower in Washington, the Somerset in Boston, the Roosevelt in New York or the Cleveland in the Ohio metropolises.

But you'll find a booklet on the dresser entitled "We Think You Prefer It This Way," which confesses very frankly that you are, after all, in a chain hotel! It just doesn't seem that way because the management of each hotel tries its best to glorify the city it is in and to dramatize local distinctions.

"It can be argued with some basis of fact," says this booklet, "that Standardization is a fine thing. American industry has made possible mass production, which in turn has benefited our whole economy and... enables us to savor the same baked beans in Portland, Oregon that you get in Portland, Maine."

"Yet," continues this advisory, "you can't sell white eggs in Boston or brown eggs in Philadelphia. Nor would you serve Manhattan clam chowder in New England. You have to go south of the Mason-Dixon line to get Black-eyed peas. We're a nation of individualists and location plays an enormous role in our tastes, habits and character."

Easy, elegant and ever so good, Lime Frost is really two desserts in one. It makes a delightful Christmas pie and a perky pudding, too, both prepared at the same time and exactly right for holiday entertaining. A delicious combination of lime gelatin and vanilla pudding and pie filling, either of these desserts is light and refreshing after a hearty holiday dinner.

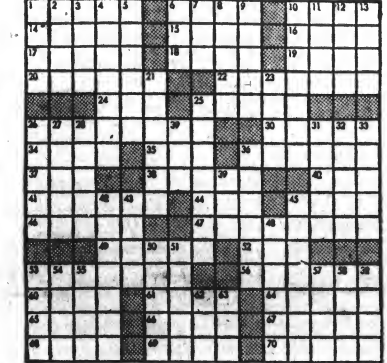

LIME FROST PIE

- 1 package vanilla pudding
- 1 package lime-flavored gelatin
- 1 cup filling mix
- 1 cup hot water
- 2 cups milk
- 3/4 cup cold water
- 1 baked 8-inch pie shell

Combine pudding mix and milk in saucepan. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat. Pour into a bowl. (To avoid surface film, place waxed paper directly on surface of hot pudding.) Chill.

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add cold water. Chill until slightly thickened. Set bowl of chilled gelatin in ice and water. Whip gelatin with egg beater until fluffy and thick. Add the chilled pudding gradually to the fluffy gelatin, beating after each addition until well blended. Pour into pie shell allowing about 3 cups filling. Pour remaining filling into 4 sherbet glasses. Chill until firm (about 1 hour). Before serving, garnish with whipped cream.

Teen-Age Investors Cheer 36,000,00th Chevrolet

Tony Ramlow, 14, chairman of Class of '56 Stock Co., student investment company at Washington Irving High School, Tarrytown, N. Y., congratulates E. M. New Year's Day Toni Twins Get $500 in Gifts

Twin girls born between midnight and noon New Year's Day will receive something better than the proverbial "silver spoon." As winners in the Ninth Annual Toni Twin Baby Derby, each qualifying two-year-old will be awarded $500 in gifts.

Lucky twin girls who beat the deadline will receive a year's supply of Gerber's baby food, Trundle, Bundle infants wear, a special selection of Love dresses, Stork-line cribs, Kantwet mattresses and Tour-A-Beds, an assortment of Playkool educational toys, and a Hedstrom twin baby carriage.

The odds are surprisingly favorable in this race with the stork. If you, or someone you know, expects a New Year's Day arrival, the chances are one in 528 that it will turn out to be Derby-winning twins.

Winners will be announced New Year's Day. Parents of eligible newcomers should send collect wires to the Toni Twin Baby Derby, Merchandise Mart, Chicago, Illinois. Wires must reach Baby Derby headquarters by 3 p.m. CST. on January 1. Announcements must be received by January 15. No entries will be accepted after that date.

Beautiful Fences
Fences used to be ugly, but today architects have introduced a wondrous array of styles and patterns which make these structures things of charm and rare beauty. Popular lumber like western red cedar and Douglas fir can be bought in many standard sizes at most lumber yards and they lend themselves to such intriguing fence designs as the basket weave, the louvered panels, estate-type fences and those with all sorts of niches and compartments for flower pots, figurines and decorative crockery.

Cyprus has been ruled by the Egyptians, Assyrians, Persians, Greeks, Romans, the Byzantine Empire, England, Venice and the Turks since its written history began about 1,500 B.C.

Private enterprise has underbid the US Mint by some 10 to 12 percent on the manufacture of official inaugural medals which will show the heads of both President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon. This is the second time in our history that such a thing has happened, the first being in 1805 when the medals showed both President Taft and Vice President Sherman.

And it is the first time we have seen anything official that suggests that the Vice President will also be inaugurated next month. But, that is what an Inaugural Committee is for - to think of everything.

Tips For Foot-Wear Shoppers

MAKE YOUR FEET as happy as you are this Holiday season—ready for the busy whirl of parties. Wear comfortable and sensible shoes while shopping, change them at least once during the day. Intracel, rose-fragrant and greaseless, patied on your instep and under your arch, is a quick foot pick-up. Cool and pleasant, it relieves burning and muscular strain. Ladies note: Intracel can be sprayed right through your stockings, too, so carry it with you in a purse-sized spray bottle.

Factory workers at Gallatin and Lenoir City, Tennessee, are rushing home these evenings to read aloud to their pre-school youngsters. Under the worker's arm is a book from the "Reading Aloud Shelf" in the factory, a book specially selected and bought by the company at retail from the local bookstore. Next to the bookshelf is a sign reading "Take one home with you to read to your children. They will have a good time and so will you."

At the Gallatin plant, the shelf was empty on the second day of the experiment, and the borrowed books began coming back the next day. So great was the demand that 28 more books were added to the original 45. And, after more than a year of experience, the books are well-worn, but not one has been lost or seriously damaged.

Children are reported turning off the TV to ask a parent, frequently Daddy, to "read to me." An unskilled worker said, "I wish I had books like these when I was a child. Maybe I would have been reading and made something more of myself."

The story of this experiment is told by Gilbert W. Chapman in the December issue of Harper's Magazine. As a member of the National Book Committee, and presently chairman, Mr. Chapman was interested in learning why, in spite of its high rate of literacy, this country has "an extraordinarily low reading rate." In England, he says, 85 percent are regular book readers compared with only 17 percent in this country.

In the course of its study, the Committee decided that: "If more parents could be persuaded to read aloud to their pre-school children, more children would start school knowing that books are fun. They would be in a hurry to learn to read for themselves and would associate reading, not with drudgery, but with pleasure."

"Certainly," he writes, "our modest experiment points the way for other members of the business community. Any company with a handful of dollars to invest in the fostering of lifetime reading habits in the citizens of tomorrow will receive complete cooperation from the National Book Committee." (The address is 24 West 40th Street, New York 16, New York.)

This could be a trend - to new happiness.

"Fustest With The Mostest"

Former President Harry Truman and ex-Candidate Adlai Stevenson (who has announced he will not try again), with the help of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and 17 other Democratic big-wigs will set about the job of deciding what to do next in returning to glory "the party of Jefferson and Jackson."

This advisory group, appointed by Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler, is expected to blueprint that "strong, searching and constructive opposition" to the Eisenhower program that Governor Stevenson has called for.

That it will be no easy task appears obvious. The first problem will be that of discovering palpable differences between the policies of the Administration and those to which the Democrats pledged themselves in Chicago a few months ago. But, if a slogan will suffice, they could say, "We Promised It—First."

Kuwait is a sheikdom of the Arabian Peninsula. Prior to 1946, income was derived from pearl fishing, boat building, and manufacture of colorful rugs from sheep's wool and goats' hair. Production of crude petroleum since 1946 has led to the accumulation of large revenues for the country, which now has annual income equivalent to about $200 million.

Kuwait has some 1,300 telephones and 2,500 unfulfilled applications for telephone service. A new 10,000-line automatic exchange is scheduled for installation this year.

The new year will mark the beginning of the second annual Singer Sewing Contest, with prize totaling $125,000. It was announced today by W. T. Deans, manager of the Singer Sewing Center at 202 - 31st St. Virginia Beach, Va.

"Nearly 50,000 women from the U. S. and Canada entered the 1956 contest," commented Mr. Deans. "This year, we hope we'll have another winner from Va. Beach as you remember, Mrs. Joseph Smith of Kiewake Ct. Birdneck Pt., Va. Beach, was the second place national winner fourth prize of $10,000."

The top winner in this big sewing contest will be awarded $25,000 with thousands of dollars in cash and merchandise awarded to other winners on local, regional and national levels. In addition, each of the top winners from the 33 Singer regions in the United States and Canada will enjoy an all-expense trip to New York as guests of the Singer Sewing Machine Company. While in New York, they will visit exciting restaurants and landmarks, meet the finalists from all parts of the country, and participate in the annual Grand Sew-Off. Cash prizes will be awarded to all 33 finalists.

Women 18 or over registering at a Singer Sewing Center and enrolling in a sewing course between December 31, 1956 and March 30, 1957, and completing an outfit by April 27, 1957, are eligible to enter the contest. Contestants winning first prize in each of the 33 regional judgments will be entered in the final contest in New York City.

During the month of June, the makers of the winning garments will come to New York City for a stay as guests of the Singer Sewing Machine Company. While in New York, they will participate in the Grand Sew-Off for the final prize of $25,000. Each winner will select patterns and fabrics from a wide assortment, and will make a dress for a model in sewing rooms equipped with Singer with everything necessary to make a dress. Arthritis... What It Is... And The Way To Relief

There are two main types of arthritis, rheumatoid arthritis and osteoarthritis. Both can permanently cripple. It can occur at any age, and rheumatoid arthritis affects more women than men. Nothing can be done to prevent or cure it, which can do more than bring a drugged form of temporary relief.

Arthritis may come from many causes: infection of tonsils, teeth, sinuses, urinary tract, or bowels. Other contributing causes are overwork, not enough sleep, poor posture, exposure to cold and dampness, constipation, mental shock, undernourishment, nerve irritation, and poor circulation.

Osteoarthritis shows, through X-ray, an overgrowth of bone; consequently the joint becomes stiff and swollen, even deformed. To overcome these conditions, the doctor of chiropractic uses manipulations of the affected parts to restore normal nerve function.

If the patient is overweight, a reduction must be made gradually under chiropractic advice. When the treatment for arthritis is carried out under chiropractic guidance, the results are uniformly good.

In 1939, the Federal government collected $397 million in manufacturers' and retailers' excise taxes. In 1946, the "take" rose to $3.8 billion.

Sheds of Beauty

Sheds for garden tools and outdoor equipment can be beautiful. That's what home owners are discovering. They can be simple structures framed with fir, zinc, covered with wood siding to match fences or siding of the home. Western red cedar or Douglas fir siding can be allowed to weather to a lovely gray, or can be stained to retain grain and texture. Husband, wife or handyman can build these sheds against the home or out of the way back in one corner.

Leave Nature Be

Leading architects are utilizing the natural advantages of hilly, wooded sites to make the modern home more and more a part of its location. They destroy the trend to go in and bulldoze away attractive knolls and knock down trees. Design the home to fit the site, they urge, and use native materials to blend in with the surrounding trees and shrubs. Homes sided in rough sawn western red cedar or Douglas fir match perfectly with almost any wooded site.

Bell Music For Norfolk

Our forefathers of the 18th Century developed the music of the bells to a degree not heard before. Bell music actually became the music of the people; the bells of a town became the hub of community life. They inspired peace of mind, tranquility and happy concepts of life in young and old alike.

The new Mutual Federal Carillon is one of the finest and most complete of modern carillons. It is equipped to reproduce every note of the 61 bells of the 18th Century Flemish carillons, making possible the playing of all compositions in complete harmony.

It is hoped that the Mutual Federal Carillon will contribute to the people of the Norfolk area the same feeling of peace and spiritual uplift which the carillons of the past gave to our industrious forebears.

The Directors and Officers of MUTUAL FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION OF NORFOLK

Are Proud to Announce

That there has been installed in the main office a 61-bell carillon for the enjoyment of the people of the Norfolk area.

The hours during the day will be marked by the Westminster strike followed by the hour toll.

Carillon Concerts will be heard from the console periodically throughout the year. Watch for the announcement of our first concert.

1908 Atlantic Ave. Virginia Beach, Va.

New Tricks - Creal

Though budget we often think, it's still possible to keep meals high in nutrition and flavor. And to prove our point, here are "Creamed Tuna Crumbles"—a delightful combination of tuna fish, hard cooked eggs and a well seasoned cream sauce served over crispy corn flakes.

CREAMED TUNA CRUMBLES

Some Post Toasties Corn Flakes
2 tablespoons melted butter
2 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon flour
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1/2 cup lemon juice
1 cup (7-ounce can) tuna
Tuna liquid
8 hard-cooked eggs, sliced

Place corn flakes in medium oven until heated. Then add 2 tablespoons butter and let lightly to distribute butter evenly.

Melt 2 tablespoons butter in saucepan. Add flour and stir until smooth. Add milk, gradually stirring constantly. Cook until thick, then add remaining ingredients, including lemon juice, tuna liquid, and eggs.

and heat thoroughly. Serve on buttered corn flakes. Garnish with paprika and sprigs of parsley. 4 servings. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Breakfast Time will be a gay time for youngsters who have a new bowl and new cereal set. A coin and one bag lay down their favorite corn flakes makes this possible. Check the cereal label for complete details of these new exciting plastic sets that come in bright colors, bear and dove designs.

THE GLEAM FROM BEYOND THE CLOUDS

There may be folks who dream of a new year with no clouds over the horizon. But life has taught most of us that there is never a day free of uncertainty.

Some like to rejoice in the calm of today and give no thought to the clouds of tomorrow. Theirs is a contentment without strength, a happiness empty of hope.

But stronger souls see both the calm and the clouds. And they look beyond the clouds to the Light whose rays bathe the horizon. These are the souls who face the new year with faith in their God. They know the days will not be without shadow. The ripples may sometimes become angry breakers. But they follow the gleam across another year... the Gleam from beyond the clouds.

The Church is for those who would look ahead... ever, toward the Light.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest force on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) children's welfare; (2) for the sake of his community and nation; (3) for the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and spiritual support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Invite Child Into Kitchen

By Betty Barclay

BEGIN A home program with your children, having them occasionally prepare their own desserts, or treat for their visitors. (Doctors and guidance workers advocate kitchen activities for both boys and girls.) Since success is encouraging, start them with recipes that are bound to come out right, and that they're sure to relish. Such as, Chocolate-Scotch Sandwich.

This is made simply, with but 5 ingredients, yet how delicious the youngsters will find it!

Chocolate-Scotch Sandwich

1 1/2 cups crushed chocolate wafers; 2 cups cold milk; 1 package butter-scotch instant pudding mix.

Line bottom of 9x5 1/2-inch pan with 1 cup of the cookie crumbs.

Pour milk into mixing bowl. Add pudding mix and beat slowly with egg beater just until well mixed, about 1 minute. Pour quickly over crumbs. Let stand 2 or 3 minutes; then sprinkle with remaining crumbs. Let stand 15 minutes before serving. Makes 6 servings.

1 egg
1 cup crushed pineapple not drained
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup chopped nuts.

Cream sugars - shortening & vanilla until lightly & fluffy. Beat in egg - add undrained pineapple - stir well. Sift dry ingredients together & add to creamed mixture - blend well. Stir in nuts. Bake in greased & floured 9"x13"x2" at 375°F for 25 to 30 minutes or until top springs back when lightly touched - Cool - frost with a plain vanilla - 4x sugar. If desired or dust with 4x sugar. Makes about 4 dozen.

I hope you will have a gay & happy New Year's Eve and that your every wish will come true in the New Year 1957. Good Luck, good health - good friends! Bye Now.

Rock Succeeds in Remaining Normal Against All The Odds

An unbelievably normal individual for a top screen idol is this Rock Hudson, whose latest picture, "Written on the Wind," Universal-International Technicolor drama in which Lauren Bacall, Robert Stack and Dorothy Malone are Rock's co-stars.

There's nothing in him reminiscent of the Errol Flynn of the ocean-going yacht, continent-to-continent spree and wild practical jokes; nor of the Cary Grant of the internationally publicized marriages; nor of the John Barrymore of the Ariel-Caliban cross-country romance; nor of the Marlon Brando or Robert Mitchum who delight in displaying their scorn of the populace.

No, Rock is a man who has led a conventional life since he was a Winnetka, Illinois, mail carrier and he has a quiet, self-effacing attitude combined with a slight disability that he has really become famous.

As solid as his name, Rock seems no reason to mix reel life with real life. He likes a newspaper and a pair of slippers when he comes home from work and he enjoys hearing his wife putting about the kitchen preparing a good hot dinner of meat and potatoes. "I do my acting on the screen," says the star. "As a matter of fact, my wife likes to think she married a guy named Roy Fitzgerald. She's willing to leave Rock Hudson to the fans and that's the way it went."

When he is not working Hudson likes to shop with his wife and he enjoys cooking Sunday breakfast. They go to church, they take long rides in the country, go to the beach, play Scrabble and sneak into neighborhood movies—as much, that is, as Rock Hudson can sneak in anywhere.

The chances are that Hollywood columns will go hungry for news on the Hudsons, since Rock, like the average American, is shy of family publicity and likes to keep his private life private.

Currently the nation's most popular star, Hudson insists there is nothing abnormal about his normality, even for Hollywood. He admits that most glamor boys have lived their lives on a wilder plane but he also notes that another box office idol, William Holden, lives pretty much like the man next door, so it may be that Rock is simply on the crest of a new trend.

The Federal Republic of Germany covers nearly 95,000 square miles (approximately the combined area of Pennsylvania and New York states), or about half the area of Germany in 1937. At the beginning of 1945 the Federal Republic had nearly 3½ million telephones — about as many as served total Germany at the beginning of 1937. No data on telephone development in East Germany has been reported.
